Irish Student Peer Counseling

This new volunteer service club offers support and guidance to other teenagers. It holds panel discussions and presents programs at area schools.

Interact Club

Moderated by Mrs. McCain and led by officers Shannon O'Neill, Stephanie Brown, Jill Fleetwood, and Suzanne Iorio, this club is dedicated to helping the community. Some of its projects were aiding at the Orange Grove Festival, the Boy's Club, the Chambliss Children's Home, and sponsoring the Christmas "gift tree."

The Marian

The printed word is strange. Once an ordinary statistic or an editorial opinion appears in black and white, it somehow becomes indisputable. Did you, for instance, believe those anonymous letters to the editor, that always cheerful sports story, the information contained in "Miscellaneous?" You did? Then you, too, are victims of clever journalists who practiced yoga. OM.

Irish Echoes

A yearbook is an even more permanent record than a newspaper, but it also contains coverups and slight exaggerations. Look back at the '86 Echoes in ten years' time. Were you really a member of Future Stewardesses of America? Did you honestly throw 457 parties your senior year? Then you should have been on the yearbook staff with the rest of the con artists.

Notre Dame Golfers: State Champs

Danny Nicol

Jeff Cook

Once more, Phifer's fightin' golfers performed as expected — well! Defeating Tyner and Baylor to reach the State, ND became champs on the basis of firstround scores (would have won anyway, right?) When asked to explain the coach's success, Dr. Jim Henry said, "I don't know — he always loses to me." Obviously, the golfers were the key to success.

Girls' Soccer

Girls' indoor soccer seems to be one of Notre Dame's fastest growing sports and one of its strongest. The team placed first at the Page Tournament, fourth at Hendersonville and brought back the Sportsmanship Trophy (yea!) from Brentwood.

Coach Batts, Amy Fugate, Tricia Foster, Theresa Batts, Molly Firth, Katey Berz, Judy Batts, Melanie Boutwell, Heather Darrow.

Girls' Soccer

Jeff Fisher's debut as a soccer coach was successful with a stunning 11-1-1 record, including a visit to the state finals. With such a young team, built mainly on sophomores, the girls should certainly go to the state finals for years to come.

SENIORS — Chris Bain, Roger Riemer, Mike Boutwell, Seth Stoller, David Ward, Chris Varner.

Our soccer team finished its season with a 5-8-2 record. A small group of seniors — Chris Bain, Mike Boutwell, Roger Riemer, Seth Stoller, David Ward, and Chris Varner — provided leadership for an otherwise young team. Despite a tendency to lose close games, the team was a competitive one, and 25 experienced players will return next year.

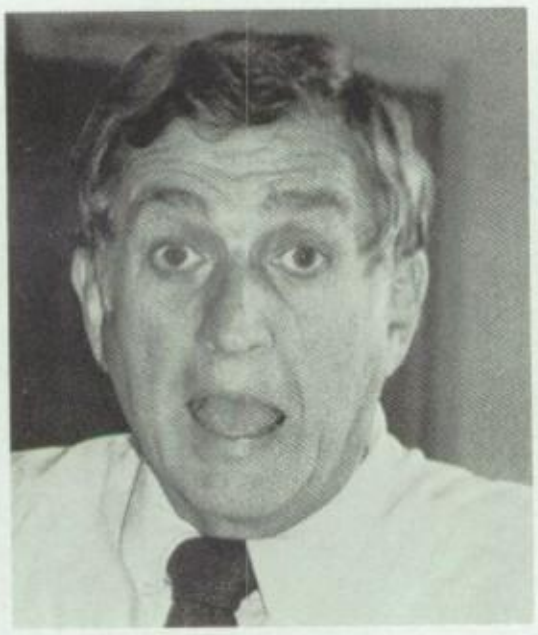
The Real Dirt in the Faculty Lounge Unearthed!

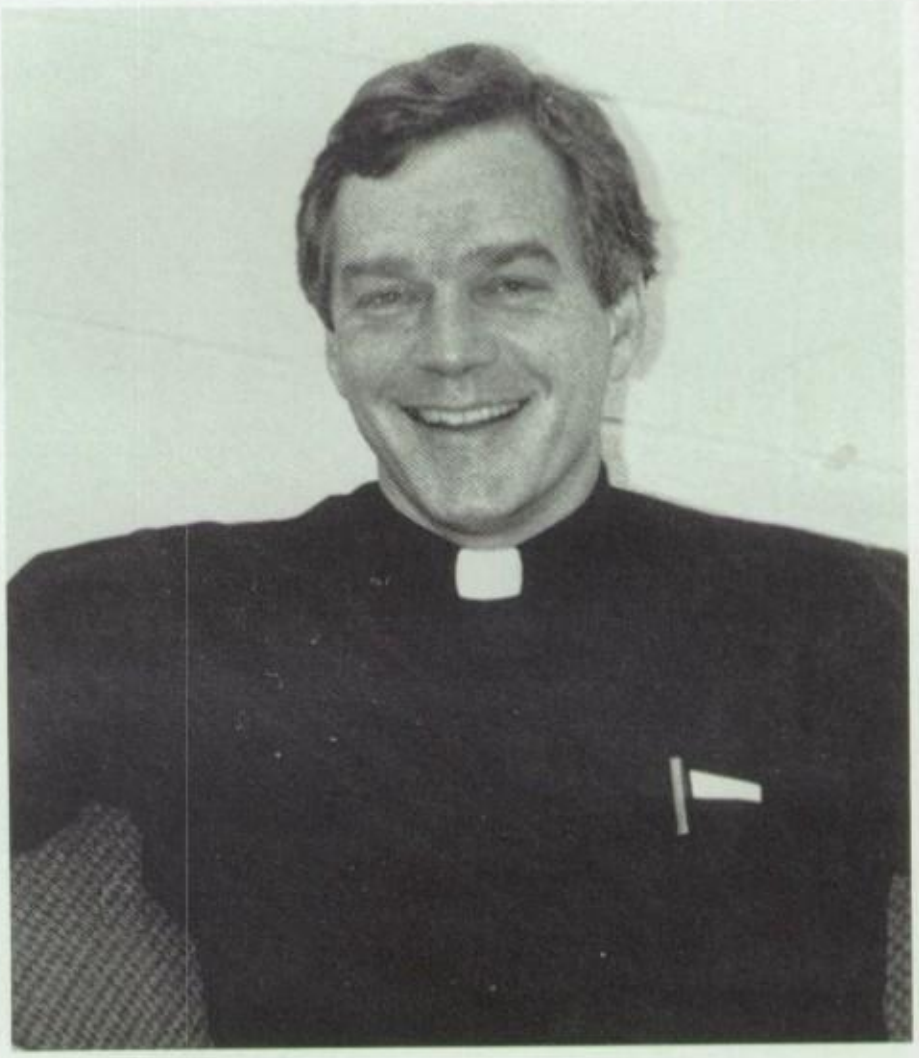
Faculty

Jim D. Phifer, principal at Notre Dame since 1974, has coached many a championship golf team and has disproved the saying, "Nice guys finish last." The ubiquitous Mr. Phifer isn't always nice, when provoked, but is a good listener and a fair disciplinarian (and occasionally a jokester).



Climbing the Career Ladder to Success

David Held returned to his old campus in 1978. An effective teacher and successful wrestling coach. Mr. Held entered the firing line this year as assistant principal and is even MORE ubiquitous than Mr. Phifer. (Right, seniors?)



Fr. Mike Linder, once a member of our English Department, returned this year as assistant pastor at OLPH and spiritual director at ND (despite that diabolical laugh). Welcome back!

Administration and Faculty

The Guidance Office, headed by Ms. Ann Ward, is always a beehive of activity, visited by students, teachers, and parents alike. Do you want to know about your GPA, find out about colleges, or sweat over deficiency reports? Right here! Where to turn in grades and pick up class handouts? Here it is! Need information about your children's progress or lack thereof? "Go right down this hall and . . ."

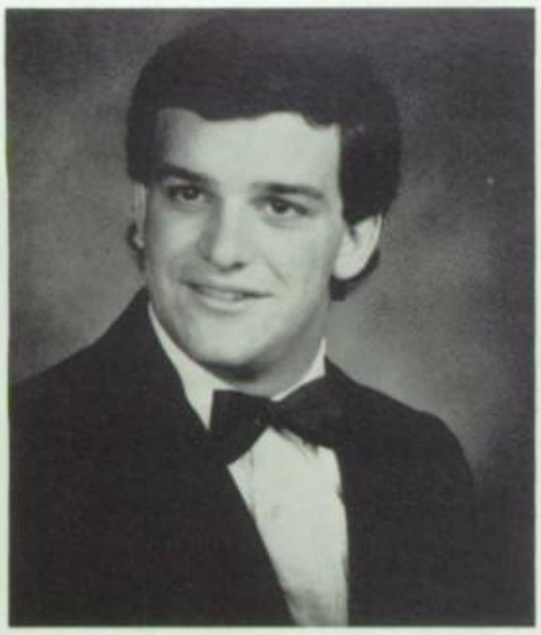
Seniors



Stephen Michael Austin

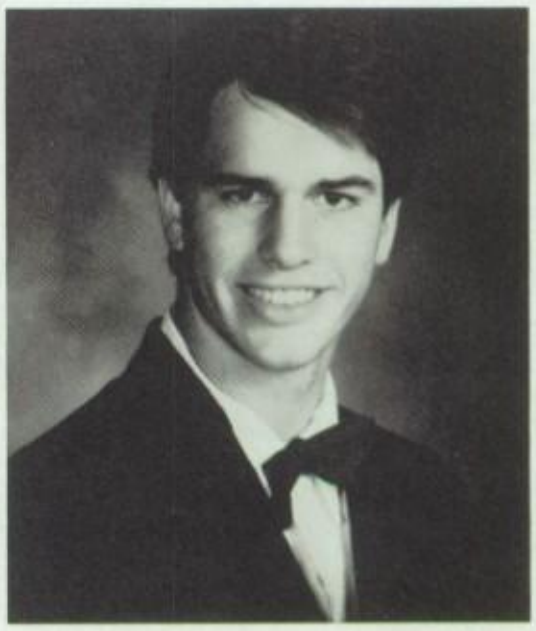
"To err is human, but it feels divine!"

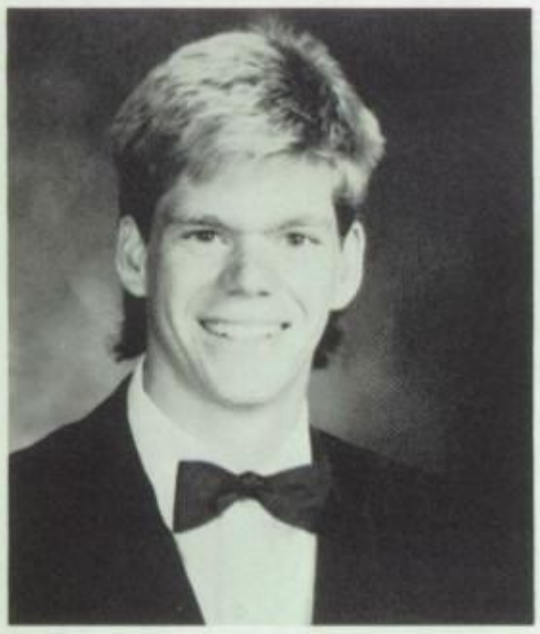
Steve's such a nice guy — except at Camp Columbus, on a mountain dressed in white sheets, on the football field, on the wrestling mat, or when stealing cars (Stealing cars?) A survivor of "the boarding school experience," he returned to ND, only to be greeted by airheads. ("Oh, m'gosh, I've never seen so many squirrels!") Yes, Steve, you had a run-in with a girl in a blue Porsche but learned your lesson; yes, you "had another wreck" but just think, soon you can open your OWN insurance company. Now say goodbye to Ma and Pa before heading to Appalachian State and remember — the Tide MAY roll again.

Bruce Louis Badacour

"I don't want to break the rules but merely test their elasticity."

The Vecker (aka the "Great Stone Face") excelled in several areas: baseball, football, trig class (HUH?), and rocking the house down at "Thriller." Eastgate and Brainerd Road will miss your familiar face, Bob, and we won't say a word about your friends or that Datsun . . . if you'll stop guessing what we say before we say it. It's been real AND it's been fun. We expect to see you in the Major leagues — a little older but also better, because you (with your many talents) will ALWAYS be "on the front row." Good luck!





Christopher Allen Bain

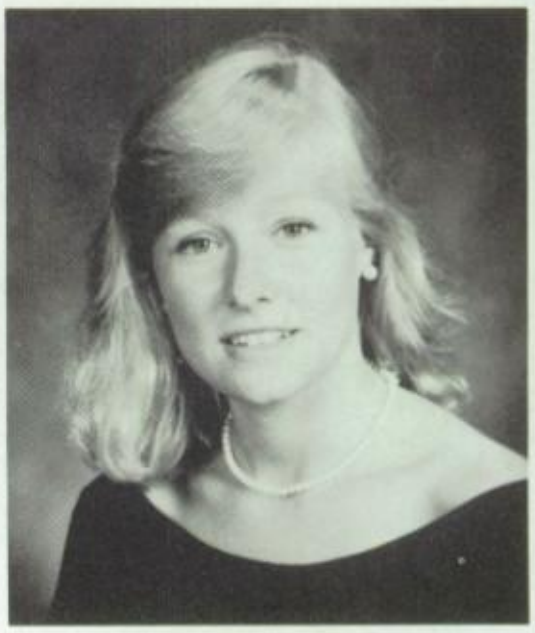
"Time it was, and what a time it was . . ." — Simon and Garfunkel

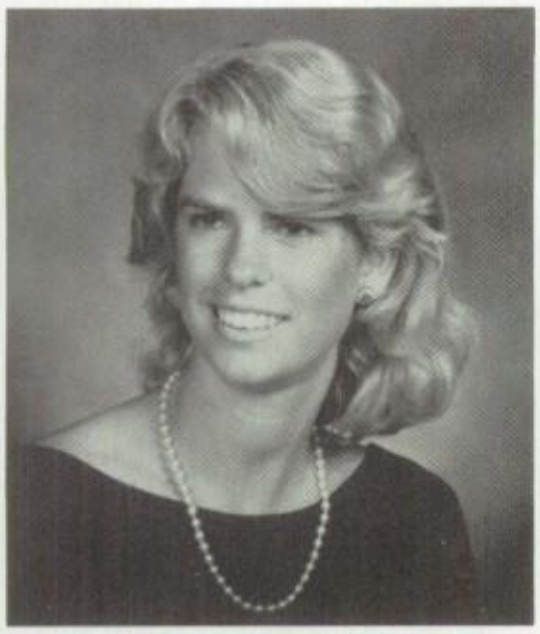
Chris ("it's time to slow our relationship down") BANE — he's not choosy; he never passed Algebra II; he's a Kroger dropout; he didn't use his Beach Boys ticket. On the plus side, however, he was a charter member of the "Breakfast Club" and is THE authority on '60's music. But now, Chris, there are new worlds to conquer, after you gain international fame as a drummer playing ONLY Creedence music. Just sit back and relax on that Florida beach with just one woman at your side, and study the ocean for the "meaning of life."

Kimberly Kaye Bellenfant

"If endings symbolize beginnings, then why are the goodbye's so hard to say?"

Yes, Kim's long blonde hair is natural and she always got with the "spirit" of things, but so MUCH of her time was spent off campus with Lisa and Chris, (the Shadows.) Are Baylor-McCallie weekends really necessary? When asked where she "works," Kim goes to Webster's to look up the word; then "sticky-fingers" heads to K-Mart 'cause she loves those parking-lot buggies! If you'd get off your "phoene" long enough, Kim, we'd tell you to be "cool," marry a Nieman or a Marcus, and give your dad back all those sweaters. Then, "just give me a hug."





Laura Weeder Bickel

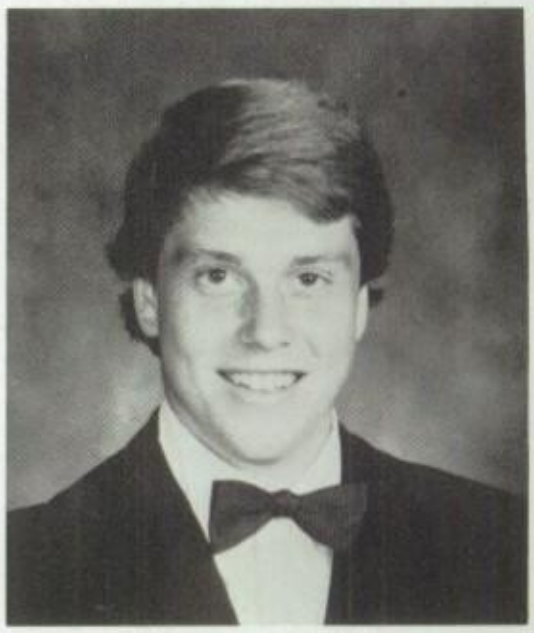
"Let the good times roll." — the Cars

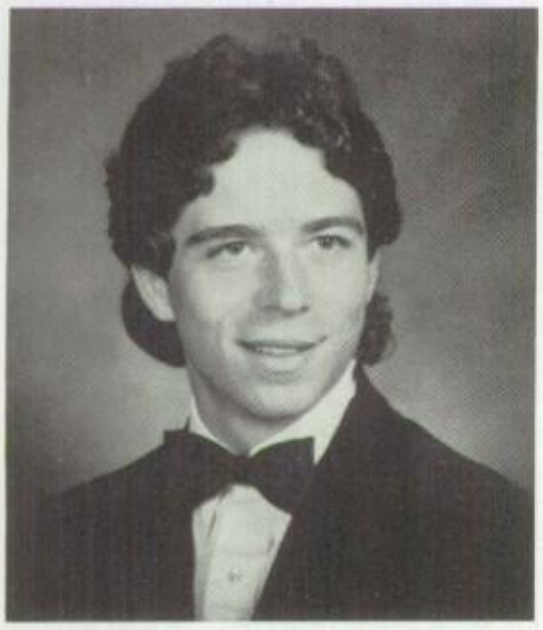
"Hey, you guys," Laura (one of the last genuine preps) is almost an adopted member of the Kennedy clan, and we don't mean the police commissioner; we mean Hyannis Port, a Shriver, Massachusetts hurricanes and sailboat wrecks. Windsurfers — Sharks — Senior Sailboats — the big leagues! Laura, you always had a smile on your face (even when losing at tennis) and were a loyal friend (when you came back from the ocean depths)! Never mind McCallie and Cape Cod: you'll be in D.C., married to a Senator. Let the white limo roll!

John Newton Blevins

"Save a whale — do WHAT?"

Newton thinks he can land any fish in the ND pond, but we can remember, TUFF, when the little redhead was "as shy as a carrot in a salad bowl." Then the Gray Ghost hit the parking lot and we were stunned by John's second-date abilities. Enough of this — have you been 4-wheeling lately? Who's paying the bills for the white "Bird" these days? Dealing with blue lights and "party" cops was difficult, but J.B. made it (barely). P.S.: John, if you're a "smooth" talker, then I'm Hank Jr.! (Better safe than sorry, though).





Thomas Edward Bodkin

"The universe is change; our life is what our thoughts make it." — Marc Antony

Drag-racing, dippin' "Breakup Blues" Tom fell into "Apocalypse Now" and can't shake it unless he joins the Army. So, "be — all that you can be!" No one in ND history ever fell into the depths of despair but rebounded into manic activity like Bodkin. Maybe it was the Police, the yearbook room, or the Haunted House that made him what he was. (Or maybe country music?) Whatever — he's as likely to be skiing in Gatlinburg as working on his Chevy; he may be making A's or F's ("I bet you felt like salad!") — or changing haircuts — or chasing the wrong woman. This is "I can't wait till graduation" Tom!

Alex James Boehm

"Immature artists imitate. Mature artists steal." — Pablo Picasso

Big Al's the guy strutting down the hall, hiding behind a mop of blond hair, blue eyes peering through. He also used to love 'em and leave 'em, but lately he's been acting whipped and hanging out at TT's house. An active member of the R.V. Gang, Boehm had fun in the summers but forget winter: stranded in the Alps is COOL but also cold! Hey, those funky red shoes make up for being short . . . Big Guy, we hope you take your ability to snag girls in 928's to college. Good luck and have an unpredictable life — that's the best kind, with all those future conquests just waiting for you.

Herman F. Booth

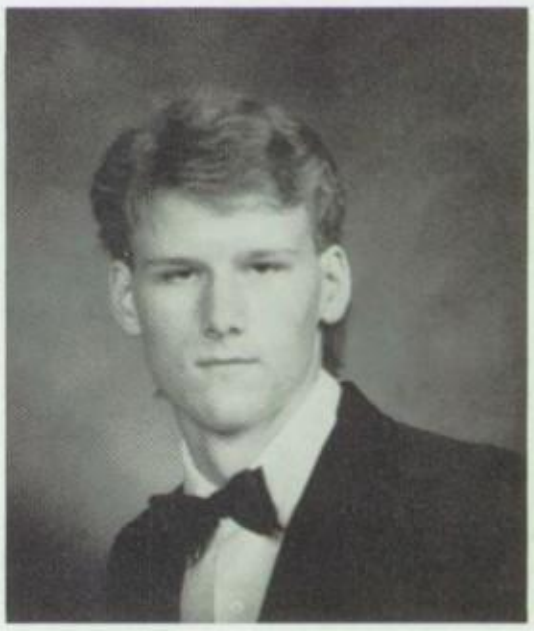
"Kill 'em all; let somebody else sort 'em out."

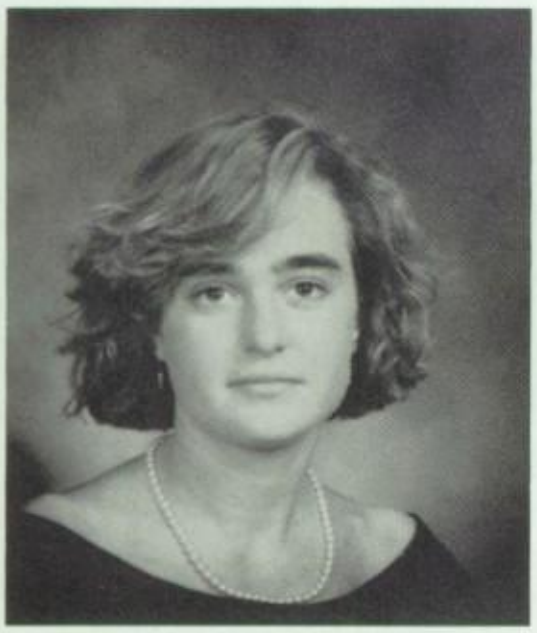
Is Herman quiet and just a little dense? No, he's loud and intelligent but slept in class so much no one ever knew! H.B., your ripply hair reminds us of the ocean but the athletic body (which you owe to beloved football practices) is more like a pillar of stone. How many ice cream sandwiches did you eat during your stay here? Around 4,000? We weren't trying to steal your food, just save you from it. If you have your Trans-Am painted khaki and sharpen your killing instinct, you'll be a great mercenary who masterminds military coups. Prime Minister Bootha will rule the world!

Michael Emerson Boutwell II

"Time may change me, but I can't change time." — David Bowie

Surfin'/Camaro/"I Heard It through the Grapevine" (or did you?)/U-2/"Man, I'm hungry"/blue days in the Caddyshack/"Hey, everybody's gonna be there"/Charlie don't surf/wild Bermuda shorts/"Hey, babe, can I have your number?"/the Banana/RPB's/ Homecoming and Halloween '85/"Got any gum?"/don't be late . . . this is Mike, soccer player supreme and Dawg fan, collector of some impressive tapes. Is he the strong, silent type? Not always! Here's your prediction: you'll win a million-dollar sweepstakes, invest in prime real estate, and live in California surrounded by beautiful women. Maybe!





Elizabeth Anne Brock

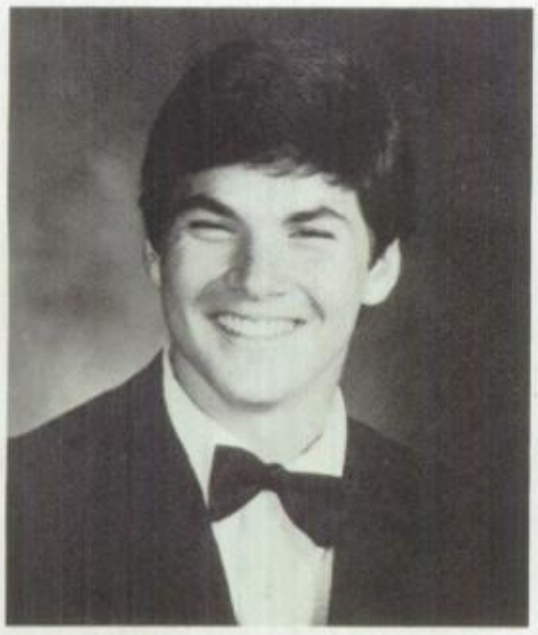
"If life is a journey, the greatest tragedy is not having enjoyed the trip."

Though she can't drive in the rain, Beth wins the prize for most road trips: to Memphis, to K'ville with Monica and Darlene, down Brainerd Rd. (though she won't admit it), on basketball trips, to Hilton Head, towing her pals behind her — Scooter, do you ever stay put except to throw a party? (Thanks — ??? — for throwing one that inspired a letter to ND parents). Spaz, who IS the man of your dreams? A zipper-head? A gray-haired one? Or are you hoping for "Miller" time? "This is great" that your beloved Vols made it to the Sugar Bowl. Next year, while being trampled at Neyland Stadium, think of us.

Jennifer Lynne Brooksbank

"Why be difficult when with just a little effort you can be impossible?"

Jen slouched in as a sophomore and went roaring out as a senior. She might as well have lived in Nashville, since MBA's there, Robert's there — also Vandy. (Maybe because her job, Brumlow, and Finnegan would miss her as a regular at Bennigans?) Jen threw a Halloween party for 25 but 80 showed up, she had trouble bumming quarters, and she'll NEVER get her driver's license. Not exactly smooth sailing, huh? Somebody's bound to give you a lift! Jen, just put all this behind you — it doesn't matter because you're going to be the most successful (AND obnoxious) lawyer on record!



Britt Brown

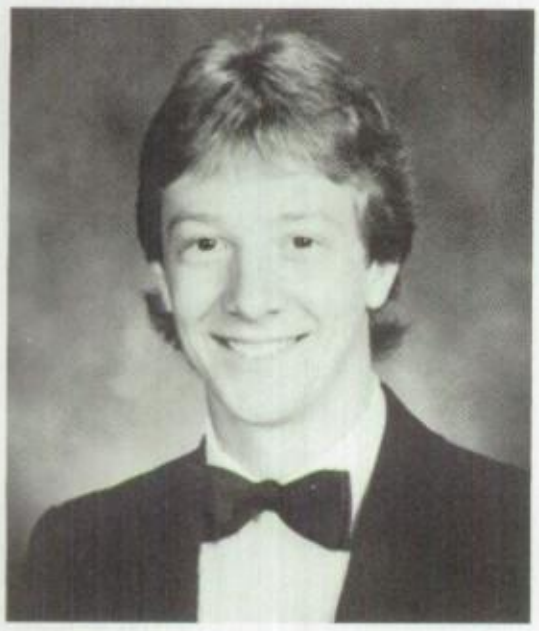
"Time don't mean nothin' on a farm."

Who was almost a legend? (He tried to "tripp" in his brother's footsteps but never turned in a writeup!) It's BB, of course, who nearly four-wheeled his way to stardom in his "vehicle" (aka Tin Can) but got stuck in the mud before any real damage could be done. Here's his idea of paradise: fish a-beggin' to be caught, deer a-waitin' to be shot, and females (humans) jest a-hankerin' fer him. BUT: though he wore combat boots, talked a good game, and provided hours of fun for the rest of us, Britt NEVER lived up to his potential. Oh, well, "that's the way the turkey trots . . ."

Stephanie Elaine Brown

"Won't you be my neighbor?" — Mr. Rogers

"What," Stephanie? You say the red '72 Pinto died and you've just been appointed Janitor of the Month again? You say the horse threw you, and your "killer dog" thinks you're a stranger? Well, all you can do is laugh (obnoxiously, JK!) Will you ever forget slidin' in the rain, that Panama summer, or "the Woods"? You need to trim those long nails, throw away that lighter, and get down to something sensible — like bodybuilding (but DO NOT drop those barbells.) Now all you need, Ms. Olympia, is to keep your foot out of your mouth, and think of us sometime.



Jeffrey Charles Bryden

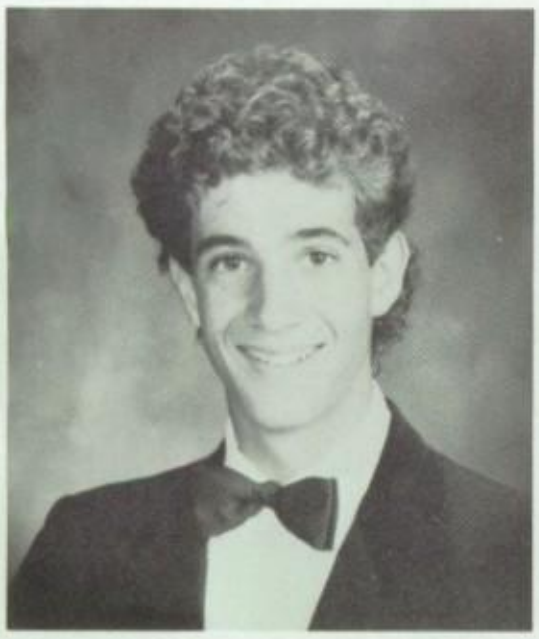
"Golden Rule for success: if at first you don't succeed, the heck with it."

Here's another UTK fan who hasn't yet heard about the new ACT scores. Well, Kitty, you've spent SO much time in K'ville that they'll have to accept you! (It's better there than in Soddy and the Red Desert, right?) Now that you've bought out the record stores of their Hank, Jr. albums, you should cut your hair. ("Do WHAT?") Your friends were sometimes more difficult than helpful, Meow, but you "done did good" at wrestling, camping, and at Mike's parties. Now hike on out in those cowboy boots and take care of the Party Van. (Hey, the red Camaro will get you there fast too!)

Robert Bennett Callahan II

"No matter how much the faces change, people stay the same."

A small freshman with a skinny bod and a smart mouth, Bob could get away from it all only on his 12-speed cycle (and still can!) Then came a calculator that took abuse from Coach Brown, several inches, a silver Honda, and a more sophisticated smart mouth. Now Bobby's a Party Boy! You drove your teachers AND friends up the wall, made Nevins cry for mercy, and told very weird jokes, but you carved an individualistic niche for yourself at ND. Where will it end? In a think tank or at the Grand Prix? As you're "Breaking Away," we predict — well, we can't, Bob; you're unpredictable!



Daniel Robert Casteen II

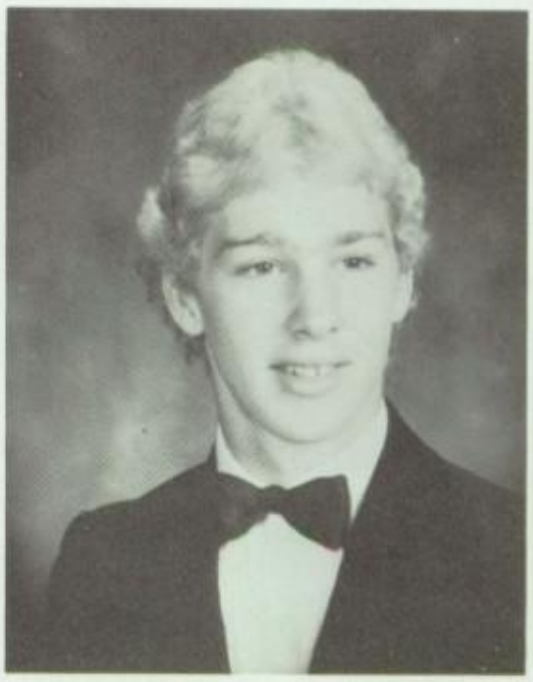
"There's nothing more sad or glorious than generations changing." — Mellencamp

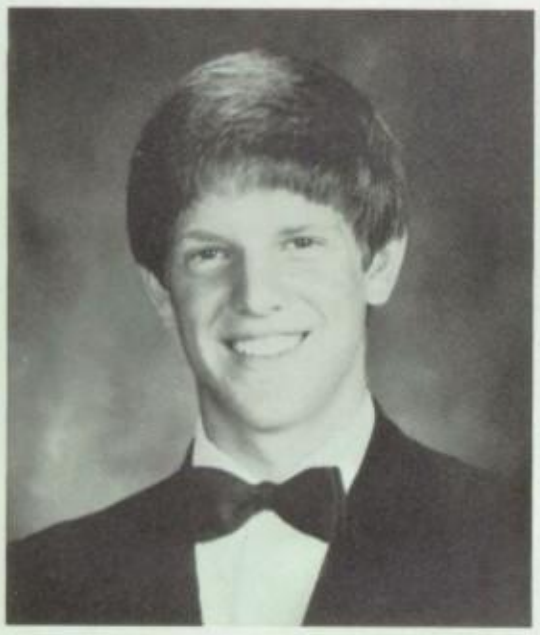
Bush-head, even though the Day Rider was broken into AND stolen in the same week, you were lucky. Golf courses are for more than just putting, right? Maybe if your hair gets straightened and your brakes function on the Interstate, things will be even better. Where did you get those boats — er, shoes — Eaves Formal Wear, or did Cousin Eddy lend them to you? Danny told tall tales of Prom Night, Hilton Head, and uncontrollable urges for pizza, and he always ran out of money (but dropped by the Mint!) Whether Man or Myth, keep on swingin'. Bye!

Michael Cate

"If a picture paints a thousand words, can I do that instead of a research paper?"

There's No-Writeup Mike on the tube again — he's making megabucks from all those commercials. He was great as the pickup-window boy in the burger ad; he excelled as a dog lover who fed his pets gold-plated dogmeal; he dazzled us when he lost his travelers' checks and was chewed out by his "wife." But when Mike landed his most famous part, the cute little cloud that made "tissue" up in the sky — well he just BLEW US AWAY! Thanks for the memories . . .





Jeffrey Michael Cook

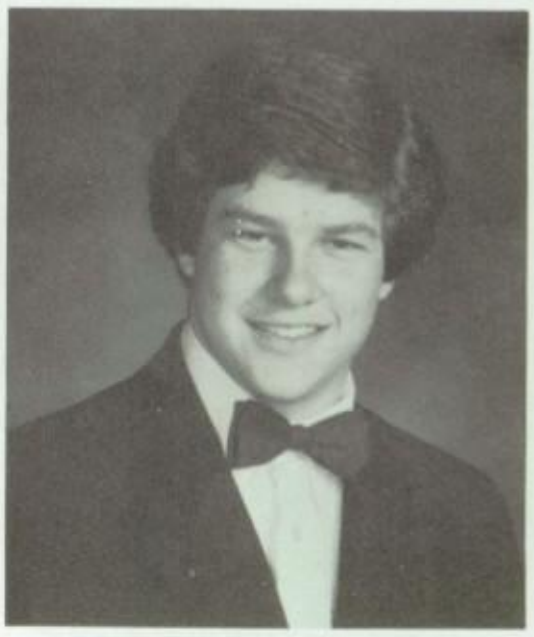
"What the heck — it's only money!"

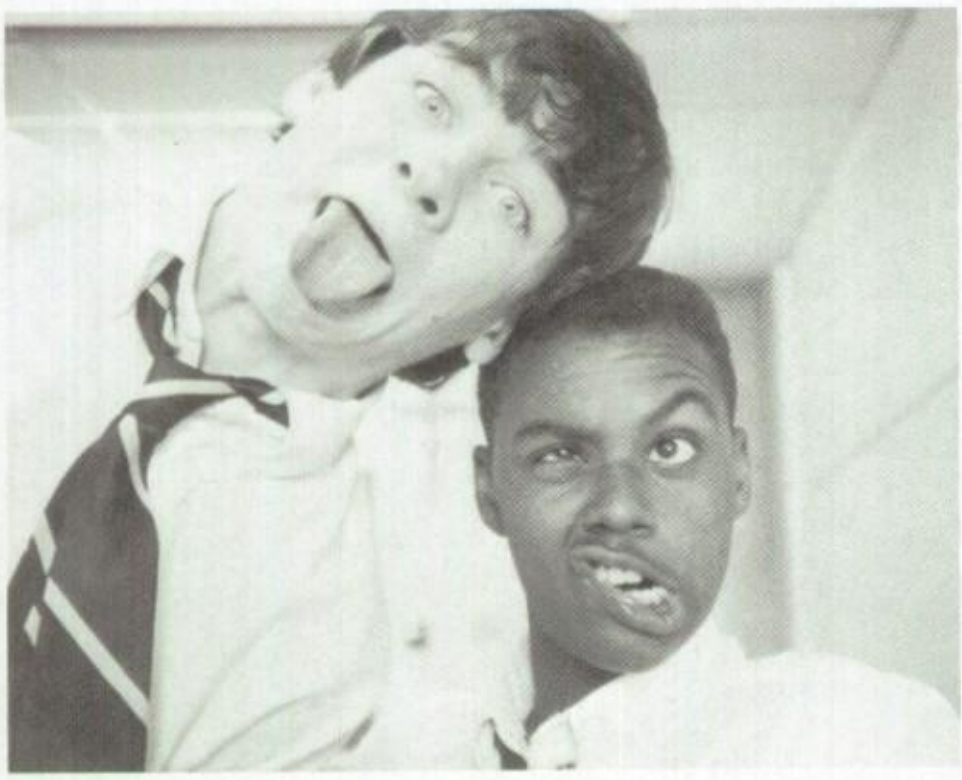
Jeff, when you weren't on the golf course, fishing, or missing slam-dunks (SHPUHH!) on the court, your "high hopes" and Bahamas' gambling hat helped the rest of us survive. We lived through hunger pangs, trips to Memphis, math (or DID we?) — all with your help, you sweet-talker. (Hey, you wanna bet on O.S.U.?) Unstring that bow, you animal, and leave those wrestlers alone! It shouldn't take you long to get to Charleston, son, if you ignore the crazy directions that Beth and Ca give you. Just keep dreamin' that you're a Leaper and someday (maybe) you will be.

Michael Alexander Crowder

"Screws fall out all the time; the world's an imperfect place." — John Bender

Before Laura, Zan tried to pick up 70-year-old women and amused himself with B-B guns. (He and Salvitore were deadly at graveyards and under Chris's street light.) The Hulk is easy-going, but don't mess with him before noon or when he's meditating, or you'll be sorry (as in 215 lb. of regret!) Though "fake" field goals weren't his finest deeds, Zan was good at writing weird themes (about vegetables?), playing Mark Twain, "training" Ivan, and being a creative pest. Well, you're an "Old Coke" drinker with a convict for a brother, but you're a heckuva guy, untaxed brain and all.



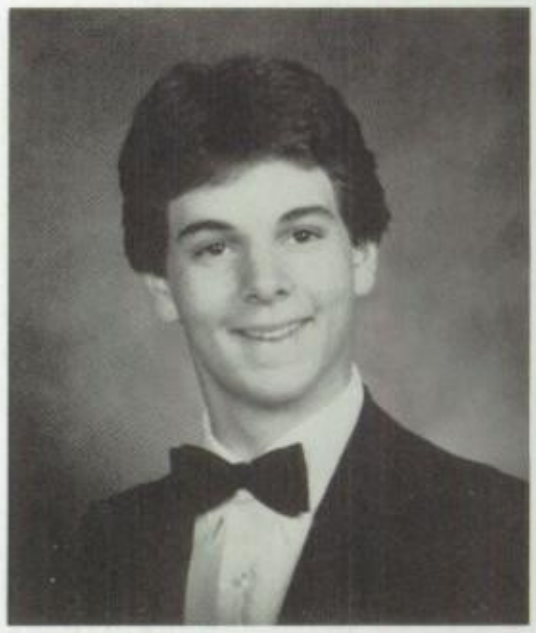


Monica D. Crutch

"Life is like an ice cream cone: once you think you got it licked, it drips on you!"

"Bout fresh," Snoopy — you are loud at basketball games, active at the Aquatic Center, searching at Hilton Head, traveling fast to Memphis with your buddies, and attended awesome birthday parties. Monica, not everyone could join the "Breakfast Club" — not enough lawn chairs! For you, girl, it's "give me tonight" and the "object of my desire"; but please wait till you're old enough! We think you're CA, even though there wasn't any "purple rain," and we "counted" so many silver VW's that we lost track. Well, "that was then; this is now." Remember — we love you.

Geoffrey Stephen Darrow



"My brother was an only child." — Jack Douglas

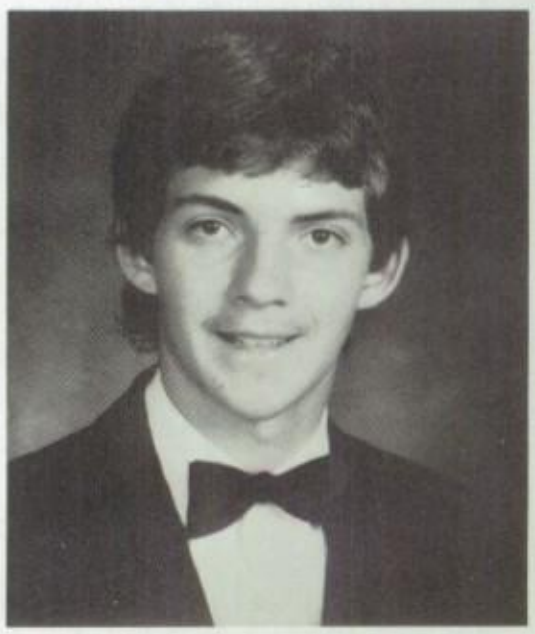
Geoff came from St. Louis just last year but impressed us all with his hat collection, spare whiskers, peculiar accent, and unique laugh. Then came T. Maffett, Fru-Fru (the cleanest car in town) and baseball season, when we had to sit up and take notice. Geoff, "did you make that up" about the Big Pumpkin? Will you tie your shoes if we don't speak to you before a decent hour? (11:00 a.m.) You're an awright guy. Maybe someday we'll see you playing for the Cardinals — about the same time you decide to shave the rest of your face!

Sarah Frances Davies

"Good things come in small packages — OR by the dozen."

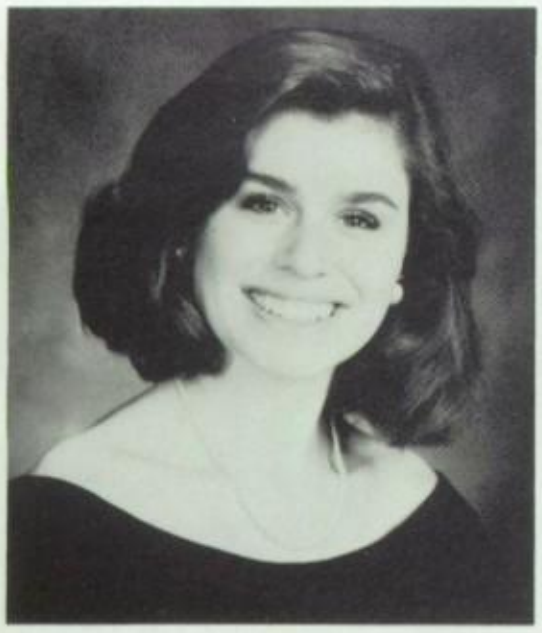
Sarah, though your family's big, you're in a class by yourself. What would you do without your chewing gum, and when will you turn in that late, late homework? Tall, skinny, curly-haired Sarah never could explain how she broke her toe (maybe kicking a sibling? "Fine!") — or in just what business she was "self-employed." ("Oh, please!") Instead, she kept us guessing by sewing up a storm, eating like a horse, dressing like a bum (but still looking classy), and acting like an only child. (JK) We can see it now: Sarah, the successor to Liz Claiborne, founder of her own "Dynasty" and . . . alone at last!

Frederick Robert Dearing, Jr.



"You're never out of it till you're out of it." — Yogi Berra

Rick's tall and gangly because people grab his food at lunch and quiet in class, since he's usually asleep! This will wake him up: news that the Dawgs have had a good day or an invitation to go hunting. (You drive us in that Ford pickup, Rick.) His refuge (bedroom) is the messiest in town but he doesn't care (he's a sloppy individualist.) Now that you've survived touch football and too many hours of watching "The Annihilators" and "The A Team," you can put on your baseball cap, crank up the truck, and follow your own path, wherever it may go. And get rich!



Lisa Eileen DeBoer

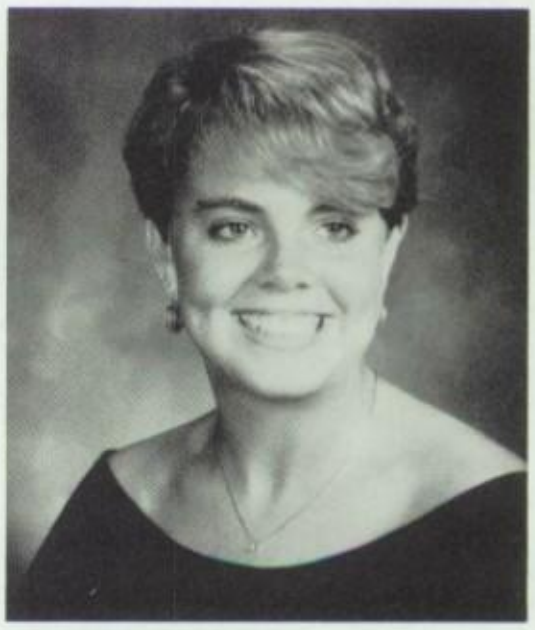
"May you live all the days of your life!"

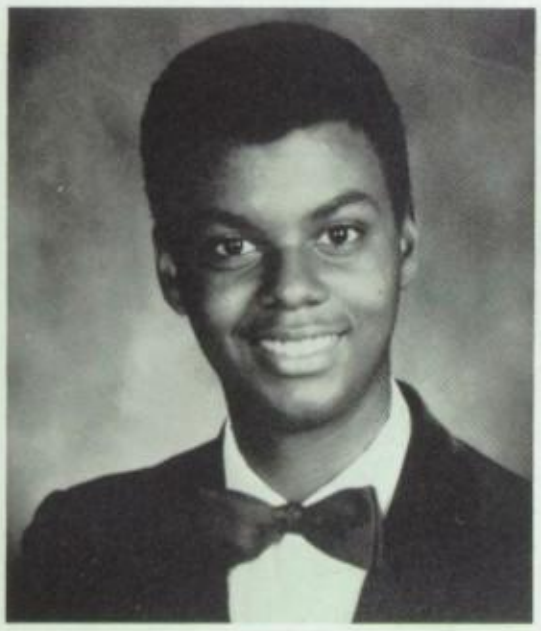
Lisa the Bore (tee-hee), you're an opinionated but punny (arggh!) gal who's not so much moody as, well, mercurial. One minute she's sitting calmly in the sun discussing life; the next, she's skipping class or climbing the walls in her "pointe" shoes. Ballet, Walt Disney flicks and horror movies, red M 'n M's, eating bananas (but nothing else!) and trying the impossible (teaching Art to dance) are all a part of Lisa — also, thrift shop clothes, perpetual mono, and an immense stage presence. "See ya 'round, like a doughnut" . . . if you tour the world with Baryshnikov, please take us with you — and sign your initials on the sidewalks of Paris.

Connie Darlene Denton

"Happy trails to you until we meet again."

The place: Panama, Ft. Walton, Beth's house, in "the woods," or on a dentist's parking lot. The action: wrecking a Moped, peroxiding hair, sliding down banks, or looking for M 'n M's. The person is "What's the Deal?" Darlene, a.k.a. "Spur" or the "Bird in Paradise." Just remember that Firebirds ("No substitute!") beat blue Jeeps and yellow trucks, NYC is better than UTK, 14-karat is best (especially in ankle bracelets), and playing the field IS more fun than marrying young. We won't ever forget our "Big D" and her funny ways. "Spare me!"





Alfeo Antonio Dixon

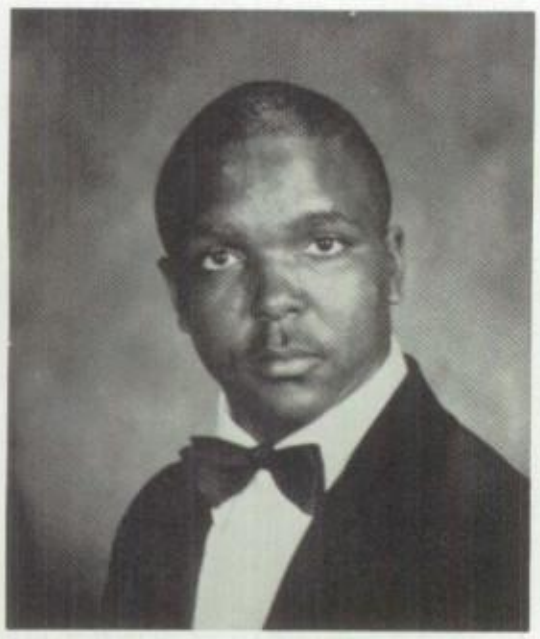
"McDonald's is our favorite pub; we're also known as the Breakfast Club!"

Hey, Tony, you bummed a ride once too often on Sr. picture day and joined the Work Force for 2 Saturdays — wouldn't you really rather have been appearing on "Miami Vice?" Your odd but lovable ways (not to mention that Grace Jones haircut) qualify you for celebrity, but FORGET the marshmallow-filled tub fantasy; you are too nice a guy! Seriously, we need your camera and designer's eye too much to spare you. ("Which way you heading?") Whether playing soccer, drawing dream houses or just bumming around, you'll do it with style, Alfeo. P.S.: thanks for the poem — "We're the class of '86; without breakfast we'd get sick . . ."

Laura Leigh Donovan

"I was born ready."

Stretch — er, Laura, you're a "model" ND girl who's gone far in a very short time. With all those extra-curricular activities, did you have time for homework? ("Hey, do you have a VCR of anything on the reading list?") If you graduate in one piece, we'll be surprised, since you look like you're going 15 directions at once — sitting still! Blonde hair, blue eyes, fidgety hands, and interesting friends belong to Laura, our candidate for the Wacko Room — Meredith is ready if you are, you studious girl (JK), so keep on proving that old adage: looks aren't everything; you need a sense of humor too!



Gerald Kenning Dossett

"You know, I can't figure it out — it's either love or infatuation"

Ask Tatum WHAT, Gerald? You're still trippin', layin' concrete, sporting those high-fashion clothes, and being the life of the party (RIGHT, all those girls out there?) Modest — no; athletic, original and Phi — yes! Hey, Gerald, will you trade your little black book and Morris Day collection for a car that doesn't need towing and PRO-ficiency reports? No? We thought not. There was Coochie — the Bully — the P.F. of A. numero uno (Gerald). Then there are friends who hate to see you go but say: watch that Leap; it's Infatuation but you're all right.

Kathleen Elizabeth Durham

"I believe in celebration" — U-2

Kat is the King of the Lodgers according to Bebe and Miss Piggy (but "Brr, it's cold in the woods!") Yes, the Market St. incident (spotlights), jumping out of trunks ("Ouch!") and all those "THAT" nights caused this girrrll to be involved in a lot. Add pickle juice, deteriorating bumpers, the O'Neillmobile and a Bobbsey Twin, and you've got KED close to the edge. ("That's stupid!") Will Mike really fly in for your birthday? Here's a toast to you and your dimples and to the time "when you were all alone."

Donna E. Eady

"When there seems to be no way out, let God in."

With a phone to her ear and an ancient teddy bear in her arms, Deedee (Brown Sugar) tries to recover the money she's loaned during the day or is checking out the dudes (later, she'll check in person). For such a nice girl, Is-Stale is very skilled at playing Truth or Dare and at self-defense (when changing clothes on the band bus, she needed it!) "You need to quit" those McCallie Singers and be loyal only to the GAP Band, Donna. But no one wants you to change — okay? "Hey, hey — oh, I get it! Kerchoo!" Please accept a Kleenex and our best wishes.

Tonya Michelle Elliott

"Everything has its own beauty, but not everyone sees it."

"Funyetta," for such a skinny, smart, friendly girl, you sure can stand up for yourself — "Stop it, Gerald! Get lost, Ms. Oak Tree!" Tonya also hits people, but . . . When not "searching" on Brainerd Rd., she might be stuffing her face, begging for money, or getting stuck on a dark Hiway 58 with the ND band. (Don't lose your contacts and hold on to your flag!) "Bump yo scalp," Funyuns, won't you stop sleeping in gyms? Seriously, girl, you've set goals for yourself and have reached them. May you wind up NOT with a faulty computer but with riches.

Teresa Erwin

"Time for a magical mystery tour."

"Oh, no! It's that cute little girl who never turned in writeup! What'll we do?" "I don't know — she was usually absent, and her private life was so private that not even SHE knew about it." "I have it — here's a poem dedicated to her: Dandelions are yellow; poison ivy's green. Teresa's the biggest procrastinator that we've ever seen.' " "Groan! Well, it's sure not T. S. Eliot, but under the circumstances, it'll have to do." P.S. (for T. E.): someday you'll know — a stitch in time saves nine; keep your nose to the grindstone, and all that boring (but wise) stuff.

Sheryl Ann Fargo

"It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." — Tennyson

Shirl (funny nickname! Did Mr. Ego or Ms. Oak Tree give it to you?) . . . you've "tried anything once" and have gotten into trouble in assorted places: band camp, the beach at Panama City, on the McCallie parking lot ("Back UP, Sheryl! There's plenty of room!") But you did well with those rifles and with Tim . . . James . . . Jerome . . . L.R. ("Eee-ouww, that's gross!") Don't get mad at us or you may get stuck on Highway 58 again — without the Party Wagon. At least Phoebe was there when you needed a friend — also Perry? (JK) Now for your future: "I'm so sure" that you'll do fine, but stop catching colds!

Kathryn Anne Fawcett

"All of my pictures have faded to black and white." — Elton John

Katie, the blonde in the FAST Scirocco, made some mistakes in her time (J.B.?) but finally learned to make some smart moves (but she sure did laugh at dumb jokes!) Variety is the spice of K-K-Katie's life: from '69 Bumblebees to red BMW's, from MM to a "Clint Eastwood" Baylor guy, from the Dead Kennedys to Hank Williams, Jr. Girl, "When God was passing out brains," you weren't behind the door, no matter how flaky you seem! May you always get what you want; we're sure that you will because behind that sweet facade is a determined young lady!

Linda Marie Finnegan

"If you leave your mind sufficiently open, people will fill it with a lot of garbage."

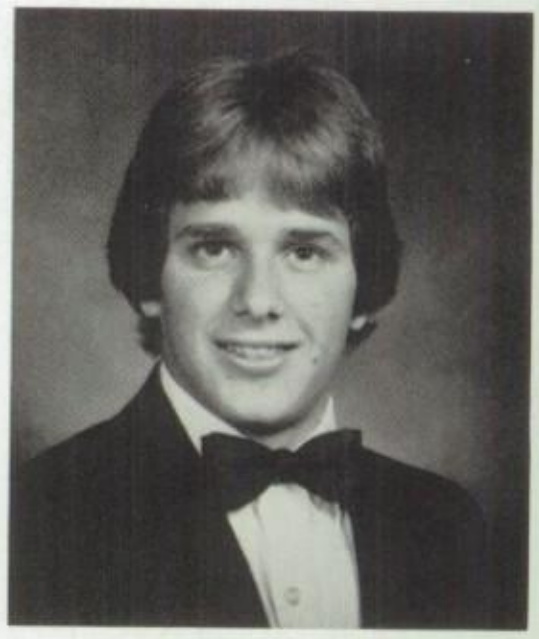
Linda's "Yankeeness" was no drawback when she came to ND, and hanging out with a Wehunt wasn't "tacky" — they're so numerous! Wearing her trusty Fallston jacket, she's roamed everywhere with her camera, snapping unsuspecting students, sunsets, dead leaves . . .?? Skinny still can't understand fatties or rednecks but unfortunately must serve both at the Golden Arches. (Well, you'll "get over it.") Will Mark go with you to Bennigan's? (We doubt he'll join your search in Colorado for an awesome blond!) With you, Linda, anything's possible — even bowling and raising your own private zoo!

Jill Marie Fleetwood

"We are always wanting things we cannot find." — INX

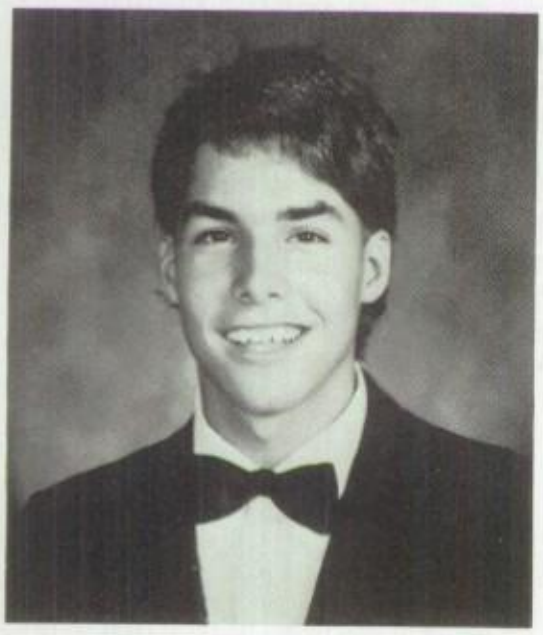
Jill — the White Animal groupie with the squeaky voice, baby face, funky hair — was ONCE a bit on the wild side but then calmed down (JK!) You're just "too much" with your bedraggled 16-year-old blanket "NINI" — it doesn't match those polka-dot shorts of yours. Let's talk about Kentucky guys in Panama and going down the Ocoee again. Where's your purse? Watch out for the Super Trooper! Jill, how can you "forget" who your dates are and why trip over your own feet? If it weren't for Karin, you may not have survived! "SHH! Be vewwwy quiet — we're hunting bunny wabbits."

Charles Christopher Florek



"I'd rather party with the sinners than pray with the saints." — Billy Joel

Chris left the Lone Star State for a "higher plateau" just so he could meet Janna and other good ND friends (It was the Alamo in reverse?) His Chevy SS has seen much action in a short time, whether on the way to the foundation or to a party. Chris might be flat on his back trying to fix his car, outrunning Johnny Law, or shooting pool — what a Hustler! You did it all with style, and it doesn't take much imagination to envision your future (risky but interesting, right?) Just remember, we love ya like a brother.

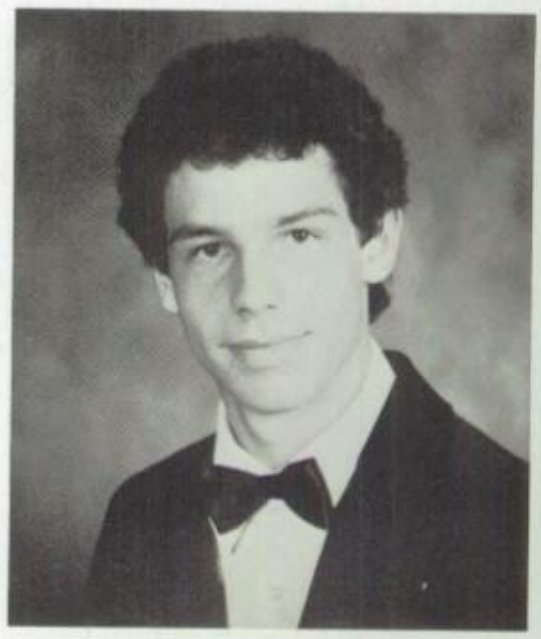


Alex Garland

"If I could learn from my mistakes, I'd be a genius."

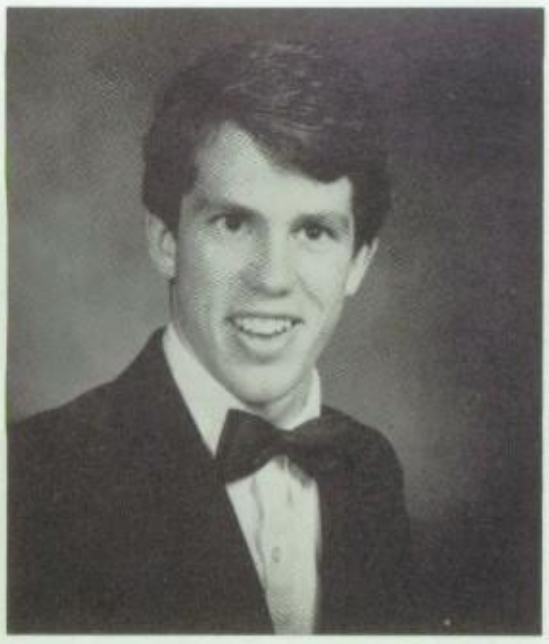
Hey, Alex (aka "Snake") . . . "Cheaters never win," you often said, along with, "Where's the party?" Remember these places? — The ND library, the Yacht Club, Karin's house, the corner of Brainerd and Moore Rd., where — CRASH! When will you be able to replace your car? Remember these dates? — The McDonald's senior getaway, a few Saturday work crew assignments, spring break '86, and the yearbook writeup deadline? Even if you forget, you're a pretty good guy. You have the ability to blend into the woodwork while being your own A.G. self. Good luck, and don't forget . . .

Joseph Charles Gaynor



"Please don't spoil my day; I'm miles away and after all, I'm only sleeping."

To spot Joe in the halls or on the court, look for a skinny skyscraper topped with curly hair. Joe's turbo-powered "Stang took him to B.B.'s and old Vick's parties; then to the Great Pumpkin and on to Memphis, and he made it all the way to Nassau, where he lost his shirt (but gained a Bahamas hat) trying for the 'kit and caboodle.' " Maybe some day you'll own Narrowbridge — maybe soon the Buckeyes will go to the Roses — but only if you stay away from Mr. Big, Big Wheels, and old women! In the meantime, Joe, keep on slam-dunking and planning more effective casino strategy!



Daniel Cain Gilligan

"Women! Can't live with 'em; can't live with 'em!"

Move those cordovan loafers "right here," Dan — you're late for your date and we're waiting for your Mick Jagger impression (lips and all!) If someone's in "dire straits" at the Warner Park pool, LI-GAR will help; he loves suffering for humanity almost as much as darkroom fantasies and sneaking tall, skinny girls through his window. Rockin' with Donnie, Tommy, and Jeff was great, once you served off those 75 demerits — but how about wrecking on Prom Night, writing highly meaningful songs, strutting onstage, and . . . nearly everything else? Dan, if you're still not "satisfied," make a million by using that indescribable Gilligan charm.

Gina Lynn Green

"When you smile at the world, the world smiles back."

"Mean Gina Green" doesn't fit this soft-spoken, lovable girl, but there are sides to her we never dreamed of — "I hate it when that happens!" Remember uncontrollable fits of laughter, weird jokes, and spastic hyperactivity? Gina, your ingenuity (wrapping bananas in foil??) and talents (dancing, reciting Johnny Carson monologues) have left us speechless — likewise your dog Dino and your yellow bunny! We'll be left with memories of a sweet (usually!) personality and an extra-quick wit, lunchtime highs, World History (?), a sometimes punk hairdo, and an endearing versatility — yes, YOU, Gina!

Katherine Gribben

"You can't always get what you want but if you try, you might find you get what you need."

Whether cheering for the wrong side (woops!), cruising in the red MGB, or being a one-man wrestling fan, Katie had fun; as a freshman, as a senior, and in between. She started our summers off right with pool parties (remember the ride home in the Monte Carlo?) and doses of the Stones; then moved onto more exciting pastimes, such as backseat Jeep riding to McDonald's, a bench on Glass Street (wow!), and cowboy boots on the Ranch. Just hold on to your blanket (and Amy and Christi) while you learn a little bit more about sports. Luv ya!

James Sebastian Hands

"Be the best that you can be!"

James, let us run our fingers through your hair, or at least take us dancing sometime — we hear you're a wizard. "You know, baby!" Though he can be worrisome at the worst possible moments, he's there to help (IF you follow his directions) and always participates in class (HA HA). Sebastian, keep those jaws away from all that multi-colored bubble gum ("James, take a demerit or swallow it!") You've been outstanding at the roller rink and at parties, very good at talking to the ladies, and — what else? Frankly, he's the biggest con artist ever, but that 's okay — he's been fun.

Margaret Lynn Herdy

"Why do it now when I can do it tomorrow?"

Peg's wagon has been a) late to school b) parked OFTEN on Vine St. or at the Pickle Barrel c) driven at 230 mph d) all of the above. The Airhead herself has a) mistaken a racquetball court for a pool b) played a floozie in the CYO Show c) begged for food and d) been a pain in the neck to Signal Mt. cops. Right, Birdlegs? Friends say thanks for the rescue from Panama sands ("How quaint!") and let's stick to Camp Columbus for a playground! Here's a hairbrush for your frizzies, crossed fingers for your future, and one last thing, Peggy: "You're the inspiration for our generation."

Timothy Hickey

"Reports of my death have been somewhat exaggerated." — Mark Twain

Tim was last seen heading for the wilds of Tiajuana, and since then we've heard terrible rumors. The Mexican police called him a greaser so he went to Washington. The Bonehead Party nominated him for Prez (they thought he was a class officer) but he flunked the lie detector test and was thrown as raw meat to the Redskins. From there, he went to NYC and became a wino on Skid Row. The last we heard, Tim was heading west again, looking for the Alamo and more worlds to conquer. Since we have no SR. writeup, we really don't know what's become of him, or is likely to.

Scott Higgins

"Mirrow, mirror on the wall — where am I?"

What a chameleon! Sometimes mistaken for Dracula, Spiderman, Houdini, or a ND freshman, Scott is actually none of the above; instead he's a mild-mannered homeroom member who can leap tall buildings at a single bound, get to school promptly at 8:47 a.m., win the Most Invisible Writeup Award, and successfully be ignored by almost everyone. This guy survived cafeteria lunches! Thought Eddie Murphy was a comedian! Knew the words to the Star-Spangled Banner! Could write a thesis sentence! In short, he was a very versatile person (probably) who will long be remembered as . . .

Christi Anne Homar

"We had joy, we had fun, we had seasons in the sun . . ."

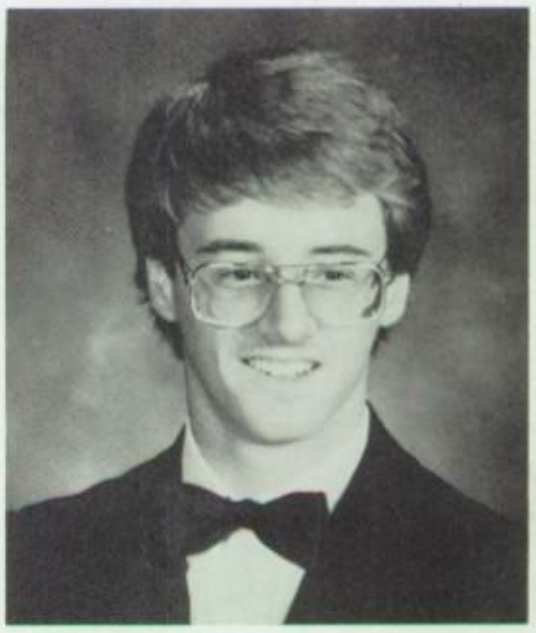
Musketeer Christi Anne is our graceful (?) blue-eyed blonde who wound up UNDER the soccer goal. She didn't have "any gum or candy," so she took that infamous trip to McDonald's and faced the consequences, right, Christi? You've loved upper-upper classmen, guys with square jaws and Camaro drivers, but it was the basketball player who stole your heart — and aren't you glad? Our "model" girl has a secret desire to be Joan Collins' cosmetologist, but she'll probably found a "Dynasty" of her own — and she'll always, always have a good time. Good luck, gal!

Rebecca Lynn Hope

"That kind of music just soothes your soul." — Bob Segar

Here are some no-no's for you, Beck: don't visit the restroom for ulterior motives, stop exiting through Brigid's window instead of the door, slow "Fred" down from 105 mph, and stop worrying about cows and horses — they can't talk! Guys named Bob are OK if you don't trust them TOO much, Brainerd Rd. is safe to cruise, and the "Barn" experience was indeed memorable ("giggle, giggle!") Becky, reunions would be nice, but avoid disaster and remember: the "Breakfast Club" lives on, if ONLY you'll stay awake to enjoy the action! Now tell us more . . .

Christopher Allen Huffman



"It was fun, I guess . . ."

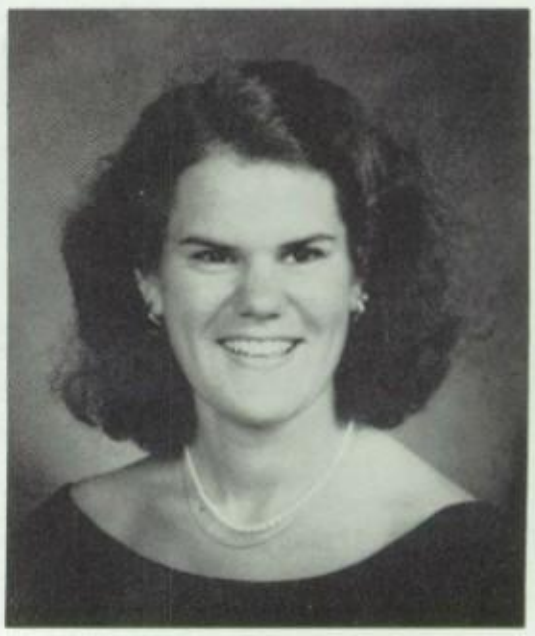
How to retaliate when Chris is obnoxious or runs his mouth too much? Merely leave smudgy fingerprints on his glasses, tell him the Vols stink, or — worst of all, insult or damage his '70 vintage Camaro. "Let's get radical" — is it true that Halloween's YOUR night? Is that shrieking laugh of yours a genetic defect? Just joking, Chris — the Red Food Store and the echoing halls of ND wouldn't have been the same without you. You'd make a good Scorpion or A-Team member but mostly, you'll be remembered as a good (though somewhat irritating) friend.

Mary Denise Hughes

"The way I see it, you have to endure the rain to find the rainbow."

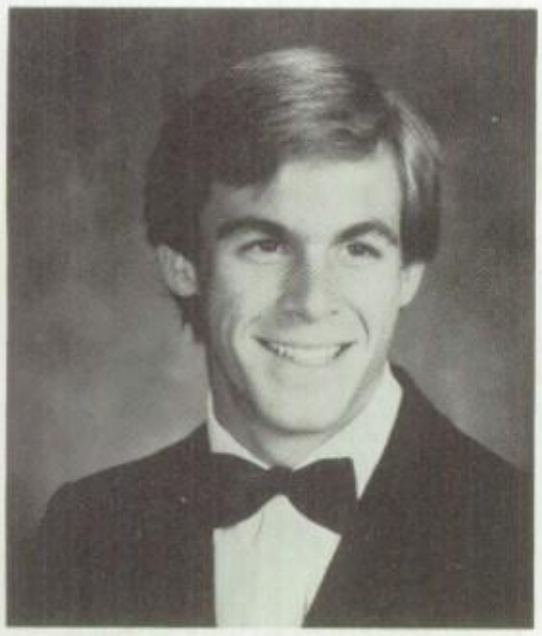
Mary D. Hughes has fond (but bittersweet) memories of Prom Night, searching for Beth and Suzanne at basketball games, visiting Atlanta OFTEN (great weekend, huh?) and tasteless jokes (surely not told in Calculus?) WE have recollections of purple sweaters and socks, devastating remarks, and a station wagon turning into a purple Porsche. Not really, but "I'm serious": Mary never got caught talking in classes, walked as though a book were on her head, and demolished show-offs with her deadly wit. Mary, pick out your MOST exotic necklace, install a Hot Line, and buy a purple business suit for your Inauguration — Mary D., first woman President.

Suzanne Elizabeth Iorio



"Don't hurry, don't worry, and don't forget to smell the flowers."

Hello, Sue Bee? Yes, you were a Lodger and the preppiest Musketeer, whether fearfully driving Shpuck or cruisin' in "the Beast." ("Beware the curse of CA!") Roger/Wilco/Disco Bunny/Ft. Lauderdale/pickle juice/Doo Dan — fire up! (Stomp!) Only Sioux-Si could wreck in a parked car, lose a sun roof on the Ridge cut, chase "the Boy" at the Choo-Choo and wind up running (flush!) for it. "Ready, Freddy? Sure am, Spam!" (Hey, is this English we're reading?) Yes, war IS stupid (and so were those bets you lost), but you'll always be Capitano II and a Hoyas fan. We love ya, especially in green and white!



Douglas Michael Johnson

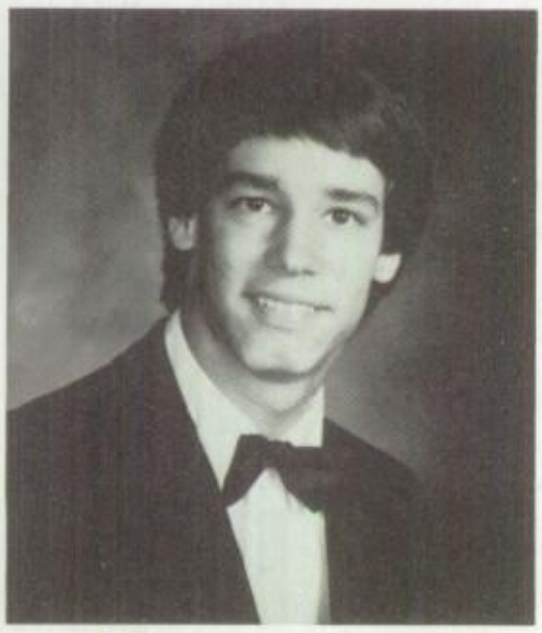
"Sell me some Chapstick," said the duck, "and put in on my bill."

Well, Stump, you may have flunked the Doc's exam in Nassau,and you missed many CYO practices and satellite movies — why? Did the "baker's dozen" cause you grief? It's only logical (?) that Doug, the math whiz and stage crew wizard, wound up the biggest, loudest "Teacher's Pest" of all, but at least they won't forget him! B.B. parties, the Clubhouse, the nearest Shoney's, and the dead Honda now belong to the past, so it's up to you to keep their memory alive. IF you survive, Doug, you'll someday be a great success. "That's fair."

Margaret Frances Johnston

"You think you found a solution, but it's only an illusion . . ." — Bob Marley

Meg, your endearing habits (Laff! Snort!) such as permanent work crew membership, running to the Krystal in your nightie, and "talks excessively" on your report cards caused some trouble — and then came your license and "Most Dented Camaro" award! Not counting spring break '85 ("Bless the ocean!") and vain attempts to escape the Lodge, you're now a "rehabilitated woman" who's bitten the silver bullet and autographed the building. Now what? "Friendly" salt-water swims and Bill Murray might be therapeutic, but better yet is that familiar "Mega-smile." Hey, Babs, "spare me" and don't forget us!



David Brian Jones

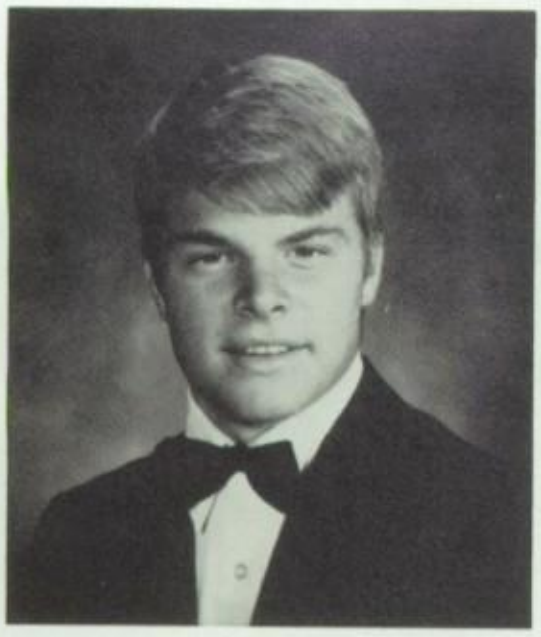
"By the power of Grayskull . . ." (He-Man)

David's quite a guy if you look at it this way: he WAS a football player with a moment in the spotlight; he's quite handy with a bullwhip; he's a devil-worshipping sadist until his jeep won't start. Then, he soothes his stomach with tacos and hangs around parking lots. Kid, you are WEIRD! Hey, we know you're an elite member of the Troutman lodge and a Kirk Douglas look-alike (who hit you in the chin?) but you're also an OK guy and a camper who knows no fear, even though you probably should. It's been fun teasing you, but now it's time to quit. Happy hunting —

Karin Alison Kennedy

"If we acted more juvenile, maybe we'd be less delinquent."

Kaa-rrrii, you should listen to the Surgeon General, attend computer class regularly, mail the letters you write, and avoid petty larceny (milk crates for college?) Hey, VW convertibles weren't meant for 4-wheeling and Sawyer's Slew was too COLD for "dipping." Whether with the Troutmen, at Fleetwood Manor, on skis, or running from male party crashers, Karin will "soon . . . later . . . tomorrow" always remember Nov, 1985 (?) and A.G. — or is that M.B.? Just don't spend your life in a fallout shelter, no matter who's along, and "Happy Birthday Party" — again, Curly!



Paul Carl Kiefer

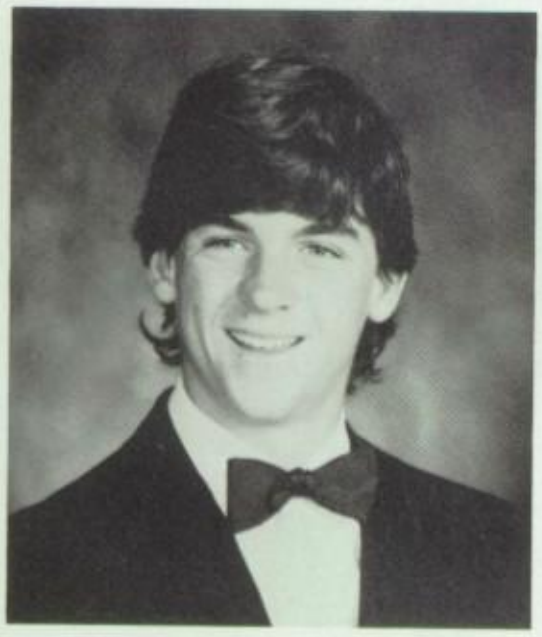
"My daddy's a pistol but I'm just a son of a gun."

Well, "the Animal" finally made it, despite detours to the office, sudden "itches," and an ability to be TRULY obnoxious. Whatever happened to all those cut-off shirt sleeves and to Mr. Big? (In the Ripley's "Believe It or Not" Museum, no doubt.) You had lots of school spirit (too much!), you finally grew some impressive muscles, but stayed modest despite it all (JK!!) What would you do if a good-looking Commie girl were to . . . never mind; we don't want to put you on the spot. The Y, the golf course, Steve's house, and all of ND will miss you, ego and all!

Kimberly Ann Kilgore

"You cling to your own ways and leave mine to me." — Petrarch

And now for something completely different — Kim, wearing a black overcoat and driving (sort of) a white Chrysler convertible. "Curb? What curb?" This delinquent broke into cars or set them on fire, saw starfish on the roof or in elevator shafts, and danced on tables, when she wasn't climbing the mountain in Gucci boots, "patrolling the border" with the Greenie, or chasing ducks at the pond. Hey, girl, stop talking to yourself and catch the nearest Concorde to Britain, where you'll buy all the "basic black" you can. But don't forget your record collection and your camera!



William Kistler

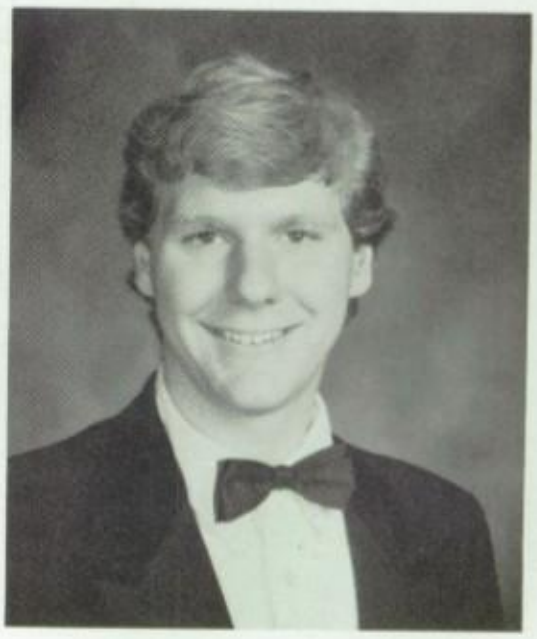
"I must've been behind the door when they passed out the brains."

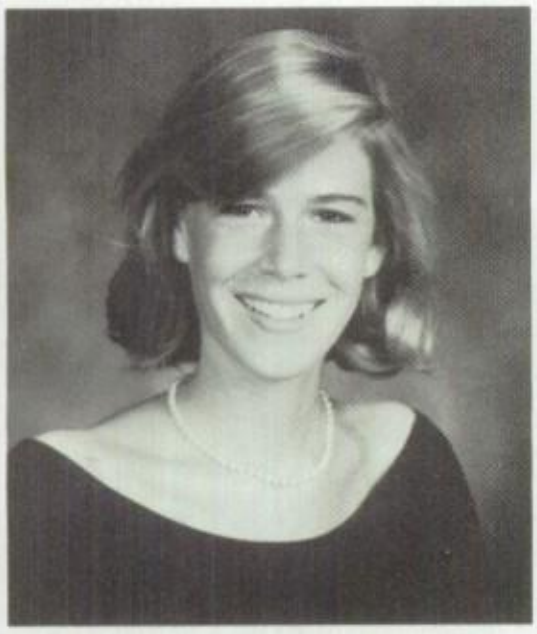
Kistler, you might have made a mark on the world, especially as a rich and famous rock star. As in . . . Billy (Joel), member of the KISS-tlers. But it was not to be. One day after a particularly strong but mistaken jolt of cyanide in his Dr. Pepper, he woke up to find himself 8,000 miles past the "Far Side." How does it feel to be trapped forever in the comics page? (We couldn't "capture" you for the yearbook!) You say you feel right at home? somehow we thought so . . .

Thomas Kevin Lafferty

"Those who say money can't buy happiness obviously don't know what to buy."

Kevin didn't talk nonstop, but was heard to say, "No, I don't want to play football," "You wanna buy a good used BMW?" and "Gimme a break!" He also turned out to be somewhat of a surprise: he was home "sick" (OR in Tuscaloosa) 2 days out of every 5 but still made good grades; he was secretly a member of the Class of '85; he survived a burning house, a Baylor-McCallie weekend, the Pickle Barrel, being a "teacher's son" — and a New Year's Eve every other month or so. "I don't remember that!" No, Kevin was never a juvenile delinquent or even a troublemaker, but he sure fooled a lot of people!



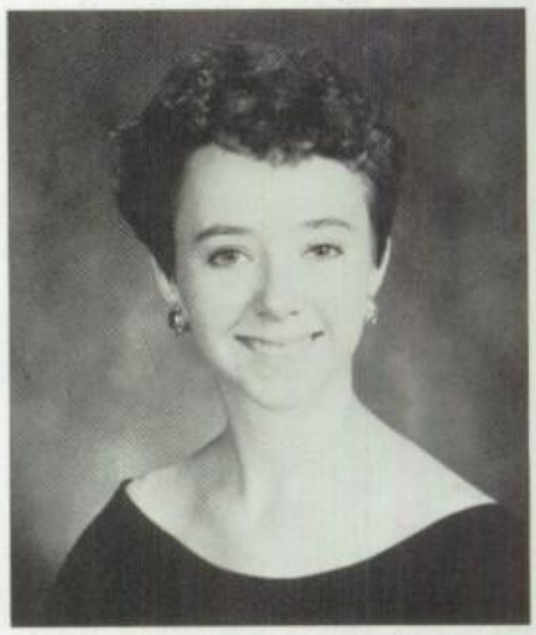


Margaret Barber Lambert

"Shower the people you love with love; show them the way you feel."

"Big Chill" parties, the River Inn, and Phi Delt houses aren't always good for you; neither are Krystal hamburger cartons (on your head) or M-O holes at the Home of the Purple Pounders! Safer for you, Mick, to ride in the Truck in your long camel coat or to limit your many activities to Elder Mt. (JK?) Though Meg hears a "calling to be a rock star," she might be better off (finally!) with Ned. Girl, stay sweet and happy, and keep playing that Georgia rhythm . . . (where's the Alka-Seltzer Plus?) "Ruby Tuesday . . . who could hang a name on you?"

Beth Marie Laudeman



"Don't stay up in the sky too long." — Daniel Rocket

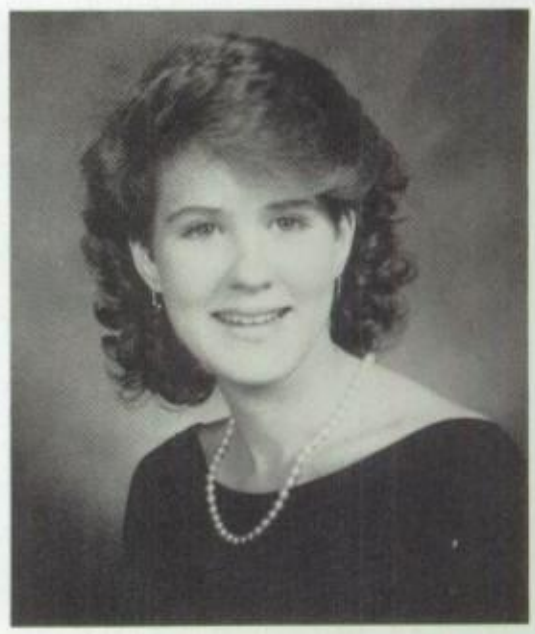
A pink sweatshirt, Peter Pan boots, and Beth — you can't have one without the others. (She got away with SO many uniform violations it was ridiculous!) Is it true you wear only one earring because you can't afford the other? Poor Munchkin — when the Mercedes met an untimely death, her troubles begun . . . but like the gutsy SS yearbook colonel she was, Beth made it through with style (also trickery.) You HAVE been wrong just a few times, Shortstuff, but mostly you've been right. (And if you've slept through everything important, how have you made it this far?)

Robin Lerner

"Oh, I've got those World War III blues —"

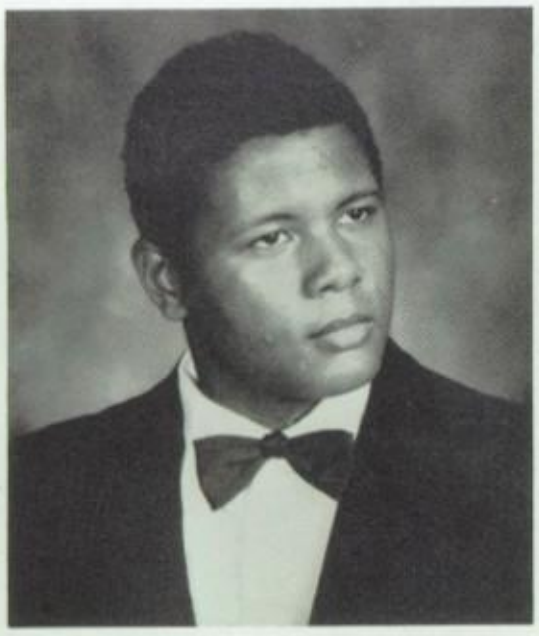
So, Robin, we kept hearing what a fun person you are, but you never turned in a writeup to prove it! Maybe your luck will change: you'll win BIG from Publishers' Clearing House, move to Miami, buy a whole block of condos and several Ferrari's, catch the rays from your Olympic-size Jacuzzi, and meet Don Johnson, Robert Redford, Bill Cosby, Woody Allen — but NO! Wait! You never sent in your sweepstakes winner's number. Sorry, Rob — we'll see ya behind the counter at Direct Connection Mall, though we DO hope your luck will change!

Shannon Michelle Lewis



"She bundled up her dirty jeans and teenie booper magazines in search of what her life was all about."

Look out, male chauvinists, here comes the redhead, ready to run over you in her blue Pride and Joy (or else fall in love with you — for a weekend or so). When not IN Eva's convertible (OR falling out of it), she might be acting spastic, chewing Nic-oban (we wish!) or blowing smoke rings — or maybe buying yet another pink outfit for her wardrobe. Shannon, what's next: going out with D.N., marrying Mack, passing math (JK) or relocating in Beverly Hills? Not every weekend can be as special as the one in October, but —"take it to the limit" and think of us.



Terence Delon Lewis

T.D. is almost TOO good to be true: tall with curly hair and a friendly smile — well-dressed — responsible — true to himself. (Terence, are you SURE you graduated in '86?) Your radio, TV, tapes and magazines, and flesh-and-blood friends (Chris and Sebastian) have kept you busy, and you're no stranger to the Malls; you've even been on live television! We're proud of you and hope that you get your heart's desire — a good-looking wife, health, wealth, and success at whatever you do. You've earned it!

Mary Alice Lory

"It's not hard, it's difficult; hard is a substance."

Mary A. ("Boy-Crazy," JK!) has lots of "likes" and a few dislikes ("Wrong Street!" Slow people! Crowded restrooms!) but somehow it all worked out. Occasionally loud and obnoxious, she toned it down (HA!) at Hilton Head, in the Bahamas, and at Sting concerts (double HA!) Trying to find ways to Knoxville, she had to wait in strange apartment lots, wearing her "green Friday shoes" and hoping the Vols (and the Phi Delts) wouldn't play without her. Mary Alice, if we can't "pick it up," we'll send you emergency Poptarts for breakfast. We hate ya BUT mostly love ya. Maybe you will meet the Police!

Jeannine Ann Louisell

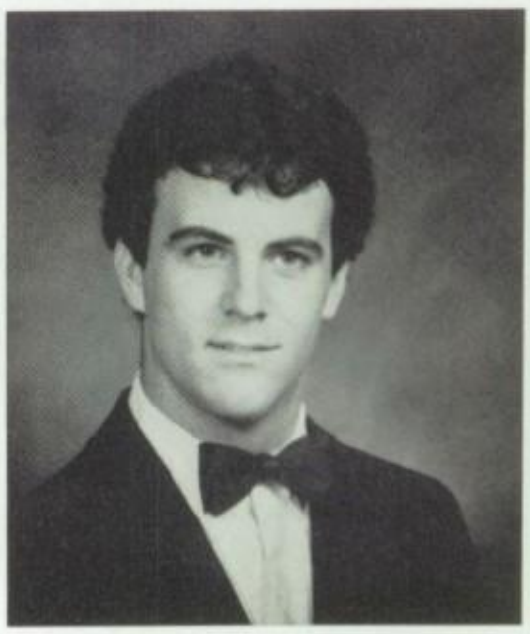
"I'm in a New York state of mind." — Billy Joel

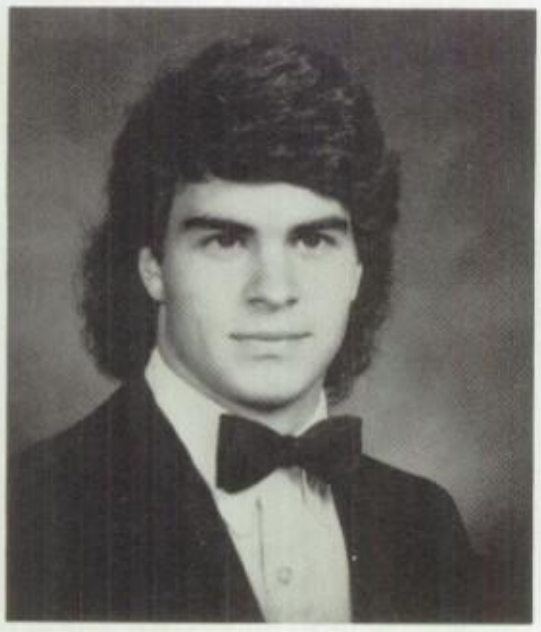
There goes Jeannine in her pink sweats, humming the theme from "Mr. Rogers" and carrying a protest sign: "Ban math from polite society." "Gee, Beav," finish — your — sentences and stop spreading germs! Will you ever return those borrowed clothes and restrain that short temper? Easily flustered ("fluffed") and quick to laugh, she can wipe that smirk off her face in flash. Hey, "short people got no reason" to be so multifaceted and to crave things/people the way you do — but you're the "bestest pest." Manhattan, Broadway, and bagels are waiting for you; just take Opus when you go!

Scott A. MacDougall

"If at first you don't succeed, don't try again — you already look stupid enough."

Scott arrived with his shirt untucked, tie undone, and face unshaven and looks just the same! He has his strong points, though: money loaned at 75% interest and speedy transport to wherever you want, dead or alive (the Ridge at 80 mph?) When not "kinda" working at a theatre, Smack hung out at Jim's, got hit in the eye with a baseball ("Attack!") and tried and tried to get his trusty car out of the shop. Scott, though you sound like a hard-luck kid and we "thought you went to Baylor," you're an original who is also fun. Pack up in that Datsun and . . . no, wait, maybe you should buy American!





Michael S. McBrayer

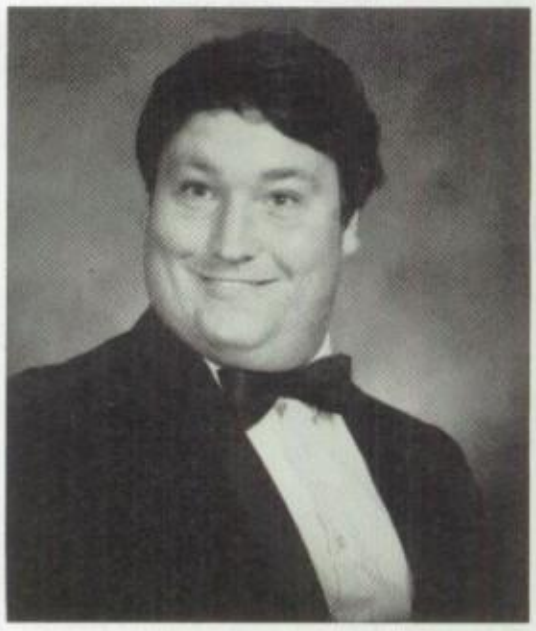
"I don't know ." — Jimmy Buffet

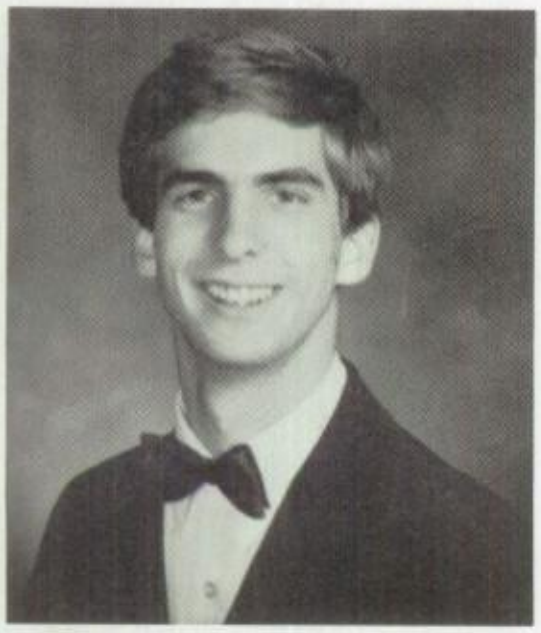
Formerly rat-tail Mike was so good at avoiding big-time tickets that he made Johnny Law laugh till he cried (thanks to Chad!) He and his buddies were always quite active — in class (clowning), in the woods (hunting big ole bucks) or in "Blue Thunder" (Mike always DID enjoy 4-wheeling!) "Yeah," Red Man, you were pretty good with girls too, despite those clothes, Mr. Sears U.S.A.! You may not wind up with "Seba" and college might interfere with your education, but we want you to "have a good 'un" because you've been so much fun, you party man, you!

Mark Timothy Mahoney

"I'm just keepin' the faith."

Have a speeding ticket and a wreck — a reorganized Hilton — a midnite movie — a bigboned football crusher, and you have Mark. He's in tune with Troutmen, professional arsonists, darts, and the BROS. Through his career he alienated all the wrong people, danced on rival football players, and drove White Lightnin' towards Pruett's — or MTSU — or "the Wall." Mike's memories are endless: being "forgotten" by his ride, Octoberfests, and quaint souvenirs from Nassau — hey, "Roll over!" Little M., what ever you do, stay away from "River Hills" cops and hang on!





Daniel J. Majoras

"And I walked tight-lipped from my sinking ship trying hard to keep the furnace cool."

Dan's ND political career was excelled only by his academic record (?) and his skill at arguing ("THAT'S not why the chicken crossed the road!") And these are surpassed by his dart-throwing ability, a Chevette that blows away Camaros, and that Troutman membership. Most creeks are the same in the dark, so why not get out of the canoe and head for the Hilton or, better yet, Dalton? Dan, your remarks are unprintable and we know you've had murder in your heart (still do?) — but your sharp tongue, lunchbox, and clipboard might save you. SMOOTHIE!

LynElla Elizabeth Mattox

"I'm not afraid of tomorrow, for I've seen yesterday and love today."

"Dear Abby," please tell us: how can you function at both McCallie AND Baylor, how can I meet boyfriends at math contests, and who wears cute red outfits at fuhball games? "Dear Questioner": never let the Red know what the Blue's doing, study your math, and stop watching football. Thanks, Lyn, for the good advice and the sickeningly good moods you were in most of the time. We're glad you finally know how it feels to be average, but it took Nevins to do the job! Chipmunk Cheeks, you've been outstanding, so take your teddy bear and Big Green Tank to — new worlds to conquer.

Brigid Yvette Meeks

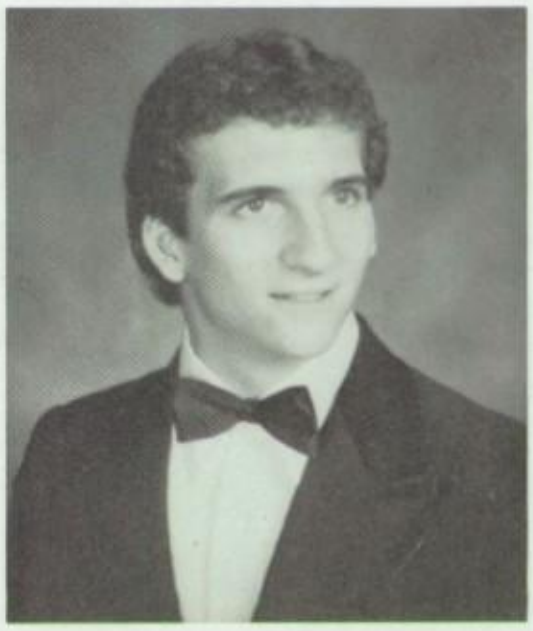
"Things can only get better." — Howard Jones

Brigid (NOT Bridget, folks) has always had great fun in Chattanooga and out of it — Florida (lots of cute guys, huh?), New Mexico (those times WERE memorable) and Bragg's. Hey, wait — that's right in town but you wouldn't know without your contacts ("I'm gonna turn at the first road, but where IS it?") Brig, remember the names Chuck, David, Charlie, Timmy? (So can we borrow your address book?) Always remember, gal: you're not like your brother, and you know where to go to hear the gospel truth!

Michael S. Mirabella

"We learned more from a 3-minute record than we ever learned from school" — Springsteen

Salvitore: that Roman look and your Mafia handbook won't take you to Godfathership if you can't even avoid squirt guns at the Varners' or evade crazed maniacs in graveyards (Zan slowed you down, right?) You were always busy getting out of trouble that your devious friends led you into but finally learned the "correct procedure" for attending beauty contests. Only, Mike, must you torture defenseless animals? (And we don't mean Stern!) Listen, if you DO re-invade Grenada, it might be "Crime and Punishment" for you!



Mercedita Mary Mitchell

"The essential is invisible to the eyes."

Mercedita's hair may be burgundy and her nails black, but her heart belongs to the Red — M 'n M's, that is. Groupie! You're an advocate of destruction and a soft touch for the sentimental, but we know you were DEAD on Halloween! Those "roach-killer" shoes are "charming" — did you get them at the resale shop with your other '60's clothes? The only girl alive who can intimidate Art W., Dee also danced "uncontrollably" at the Nucleus, paid LARGE phone bills, and almost totally fooled her teachers. (Punk, "what's that on your ear?") That's MMM: good grades and good clean (?) fun. See ya in Europe . . .

Christopher Randolph Morgan

"Time will tell."

Chris: tall, slim, handsome and wears shorts to show off his legs — but he's NOT modest. Often found asleep, he'll wake up for only a few things, such as cruising in the CAT. Then come keeping track of the villains on "Knott's Landing," talking to good lookers, and generally acting crazy. "Hey, are you going?" Be more careful, Chris, when you take a date to the Cow Palace, and stop being so lazy! Here's hoping you marry the Phi, have lots of kids, and stay young and handsome forever. (Let's not forget to have plenty of cash!)

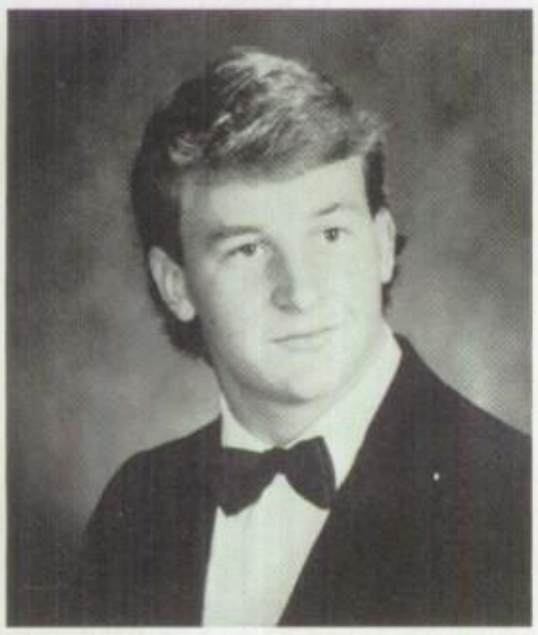
"Never fear shadows. They simply mean that there's a light shining somewhere nearby."

Hey, U-2 fan, you should keep a bag of Oreos in your locker to ward off fainting spells; also entertain us with your version of a geometrical theorem more often! We know how much you enjoy driving that big red truck — providing rides down Dodds Ave. is your favorite pastime, huh? Now don't drive too fast 'cause "The Young Ones" doesn't come on till 11:30 . . . Sunday. Be sure to take care of your Rags, but save some of Bono for the rest of us!

Tracy Susanna Musick

"Funny how the times change as fast as we can run; sad to say we had to part when the fun had just begun."

Tracy ("Huh?) sometimes suffers from "mood attacks" ("Snarl! Get outta my way!") but she has her good side. She's been a mother hen to needy friends and finally figured that Texas cowboys weren't that great. (Unfortunately, now she's so picky she may never marry.) So, your tennis shoes and Fred are your prize possessions? Wouldn't they take a back seat if a Porsche 911 came along? Tracy, get off the phone, stop eating french fries, and begin planning for Hilton Head (or Knoxville.) It's a long way from the lake to the Caribbean, but you'll make it!

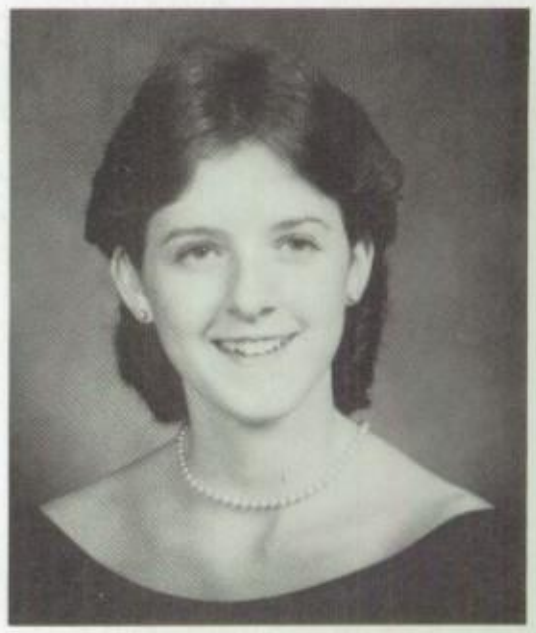


Bud T. Nelson

"Why DID the dinosaurs become extinct?"

Bud often rose to the occasion on the wrestling mat and had a really neat collection of He-Man dolls from female admirers, but he had frequent mental blocks. His mom told him to study; his barber advised a haircut; he was begged to turn in a writeup, but did he listen? NO, he was deaf, with those carrots in his ears! Another difficulty was his inability to put down the Sports Illustrated swimsuit edition to make his brains work for, not against, him. We really luv ya, Bud, but this time you missed the boat. "Boat? What boat?"

Barbara Holly Niemann



"Save the past, hold the present, search for the future, but don't worry about it."

Holly, new this year at ND, has made tons of friends with her peppy style and always — smiling face. "HEY!" Your determination to make good is unreal — also your skill at basketball. With all the Cokes you drink and lazy hours spent with Jamn, your teddy bear, it's surprising how deadly those moves are! Holly, you shouldn't have taken roses from the graveyard, and be more careful at those drivein windows! Too bad about the Cardinals, but just keep on hopin'. Aim high, and you might get that candy-apple red DeLorean — and him!

Kisook Jennifer Newton

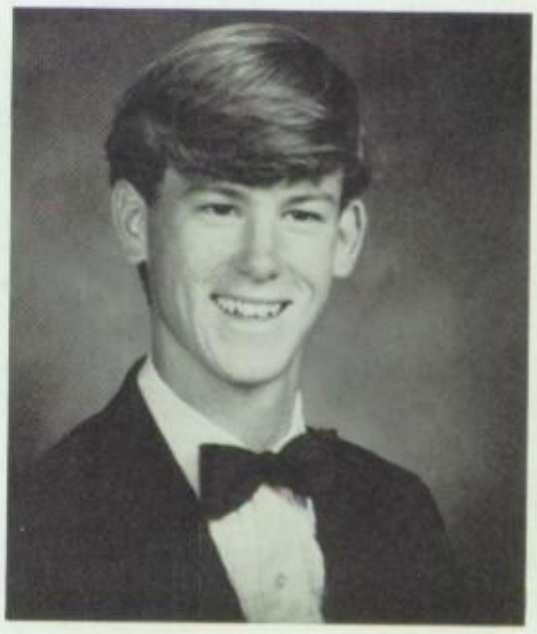
"Never put off till tomorrow what you can do the day after."

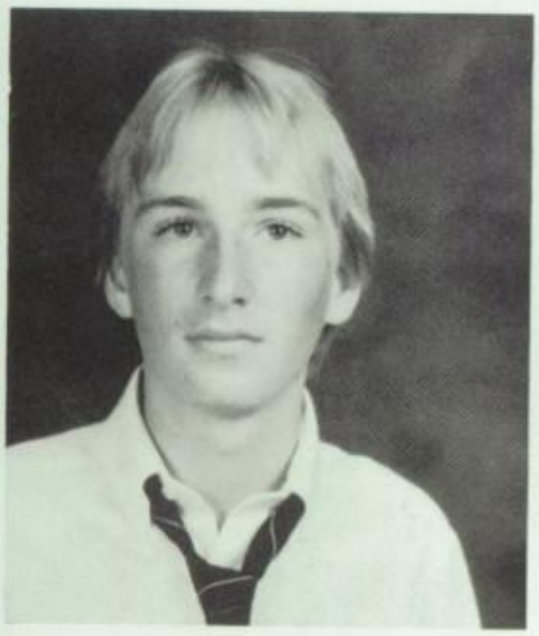
Ketchup, have you jumped out of the Brady Bunch car at a red light lately? Or run off to McDonald's? HOW many times did you prowl through Eastgate? ("Scoot down! Guard, get in line!") For a spaz, Mama K., you sure did well with your flag and rifle, but don't point (sorry, in our direction Kim and "the Tank," M'n M's, and dropping pink turbans from your jet-black hair didn't make life easier. But Panama City (and boys!), friends, and Rhapsody helped you through. Kisook, if you change your name to Marie and become a beach bum, how can we stay in touch?

Donald Charles Nicol

"Gee, thanks! I could have done it better myself!"

When a guitar enters a person's life he's never the same — jammin', rolling puppy-dog eyes and gnashing teeth during solos — and when gold clubs, and a state championship are added, you get BIG trouble (even in San Diego!) This All-American (?) boy hunts and fishes, mows lawns (though he'd prefer an hour in the darkroom with TM), and is always on time. The "threesome," big ears, turtlenecks, arguing, the Jeep, "Jack the Attack," a daynamite gold swing — here's Doodie, a good boy and a womanizer ("She's awesome!") who always remembers, "Better safe than sorry."





Chris Nowell

"All I want is a party doll . . ." (the Everly Brothers)

There once was a young man named Chris
Who sought love and wedded bliss.
Though he begged and he pouted,
"There's no way," the girl shouted,
"That I'd give up my soap operas for this!"
P.S. Sorry, Chris, we would have loved a writeup . . .

Erin Catherine O'Connell

"And when another day is through, I'll still be friends with you." — Simon and Garfunkel

Now "chill out," Erin, and listen to these words of advice from Phoebe, John, Anne, Sid, and Ferf: red Karmann-Ghias won't wear out, green socks and pink stuffed bunnies are good for you, and THE LODGE is waiting. Hey, give us some updates on Springsteen and the Redskins — and tell us how you got that ring so fast! (Where did all that mud come from, girl?) Erin-nn, we see a successful lawyer with a big mouth in your future — yes, it's YOU. Never cut your hair, Valley Girl (or Lady Godiva); and — if possible, stay sweet and be good.

Sheila O'Keefe

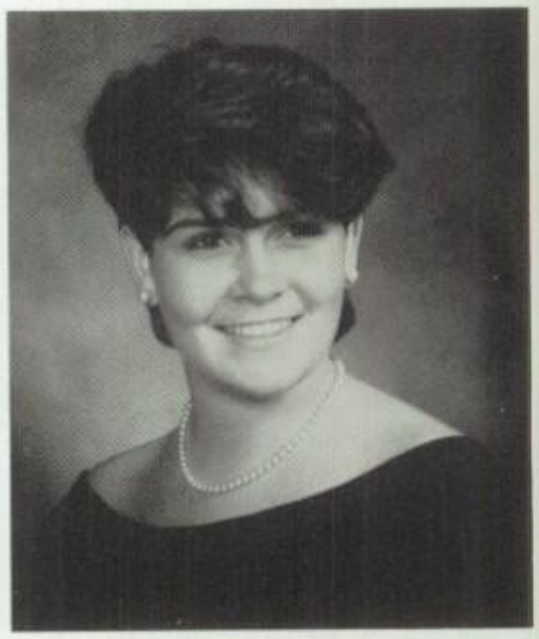
"As many as the days were long/ I was right and you were wrong." — Morrissey

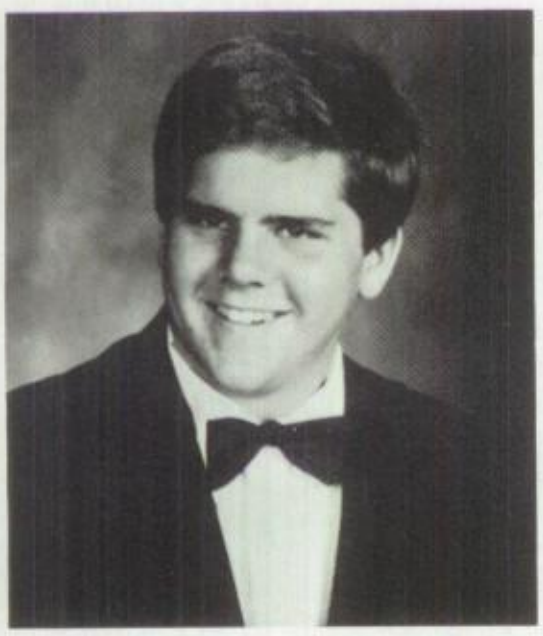
Sheila, you always seem to be having a really fun, switched-on time — so why do we think you're not telling everything? You had your problems with guys — remember the drive-in with Elvis C., when you "permanently" borrowed his glasses? That was fun, but not quite so exhilarating as the "Long, Hot Summer" with Paul. Then came the cold reality of yet another school year, but this time you were a senior, with good friends in the Breakfast Club (Oh, well, another work day isn't THAT bad!) You're often spastic, frequently spacy, but always interesting — and you've been a good friend as well. We luv ya, Dude!

Shannon Michelle O'Neill

"Into the heart of a child . . . I can smile. I will find my way." — BonoVox

Channon, we won't forget that burgundy hair, the Lodge and the Woods ("Brr, it's cold!"), and — above all — Moose fights at 3:00 a.m., your loyalty to the 3 Musketeers, and — "how's Senor?' But really, SMO, are those hideously obnoxious laughs and that Tippy Turtle watch really necessary? You've been oodles of fun, Capitano I, but you can't have Erin's Karmann-Ghia 'cause the O'Neill-Mobile can surf well enough for Miss Piggy. Even though we see cheese on your chin, bangs in your face and jube-fish in your heart, you may eventually be invited to another movie. "Hey, love" — SHPUHH!





Christopher Martin Osburn

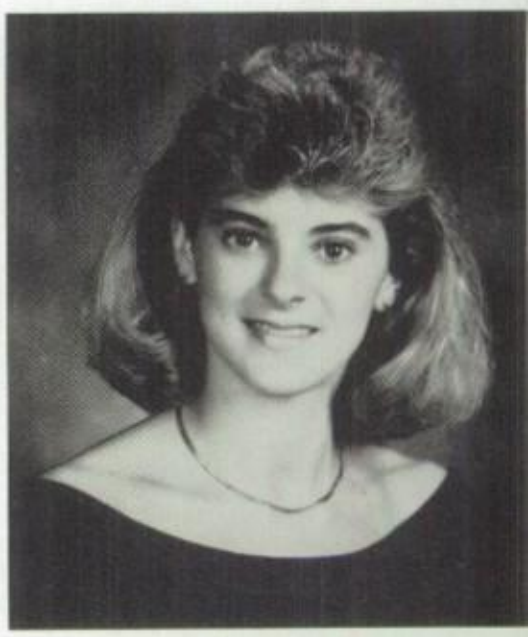
"The Disco King is hurt!"

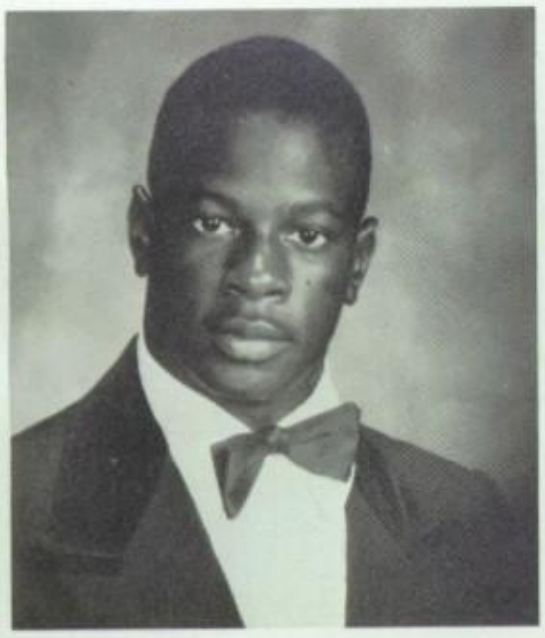
Chris, the Grand Troutman, was so busy getting wounded (hot coffee burns, slashed hands, a knot on his head, and ears assaulted by "the sound of Sawyer") that he scarcely had time for anything else but beating up on Kleinstub or aiming the Swamp booney towards the Lodge — also windsurfing and canoe-ing in the wee small hours. Indoor sports CAN be fun, Disco King — even if Pruett's Food Town IS slow at times. Stonewall, at least you have a possible future: selling Sno-cones from the back of your Jeep. Now just find a suitable beach, put the safety back on your shotgun, and stay out of further pain.

Kelly Levelle Owens

"Birds in the air, fish in the sea; how I ever graduated is a mystery to me . . ."

Here's Puddin' — the girl with the husky voice, big brown eyes, repulsively painted nails, and other assets. "Give us a ride" in your Daytona, Kelly, or lend us your little black book — please? Gypsy "bingoed" her way to stardom at ND, wowed Baylor as the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina, and then went home . . . to be grounded. That's OK, Booger, you can watch your favorite program, "Miami Vice" — OR become a member of it. You may never date 6 guys at one time or work out a budget in real life, but a Florida condo with a racquetball court and a phone in every room (also Don Johnson) seems fair!





Ivan Todd Patton

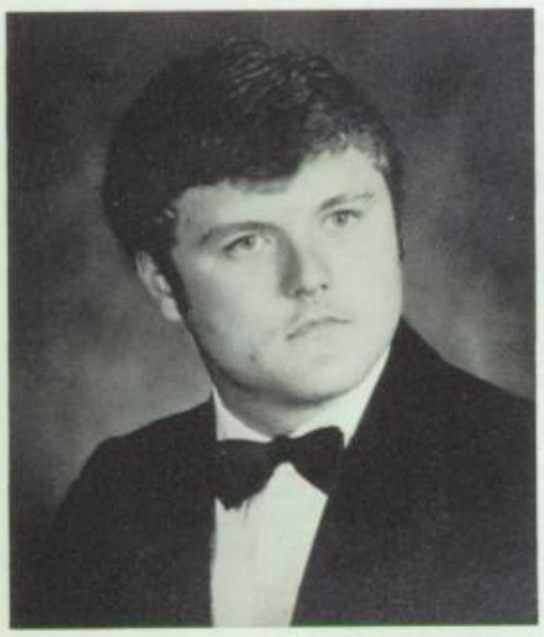
"Lead me not into temptation; I can find it myself."

Well, I.P., the boy "from the wrong side of the tracks," certainly made it big! Captain of the football team, champion wrestler, cheerleaders at his beck and call — what more could he ask for? (Except not being called Pit Pat!) Look for him either stealing something from Zan's locker, getting "physical" at Chris's, or missing football practice for a very "important" Teen Board meeting. If Ivan goes to UTK, he'll certainly be a BMOC, "ya know," and he'll hang out in all the right places, talking out of the side of his mouth to good-looking women. The sky's the limit for this "Nevins reject!"

Kimberly La Rae Pickard

"Love doesn't make the world go 'round; love is what makes the ride worthwhile."

From hotel balconies in Paris (France) to homecomings in Lafayette (Georgia); from "I'd rather be skiing" to "Do Swiss cows lick?" . . . footloose LaRae is FULL of surprises. And what color combos! The White Animals, green glow-in-the-dark necklaces, and a Blue Bomb! She never got a demerit but had front-row seats for the REM concert; she drank Classic Cokes but drove a wild Peugot; she "growled" a lot (because she belonged to a "Menagerie?") Here, Heather, maybe you can figure this girl out. "Woopsie," when you showed your true self, we KNEW it!



James David Poole, Jr.

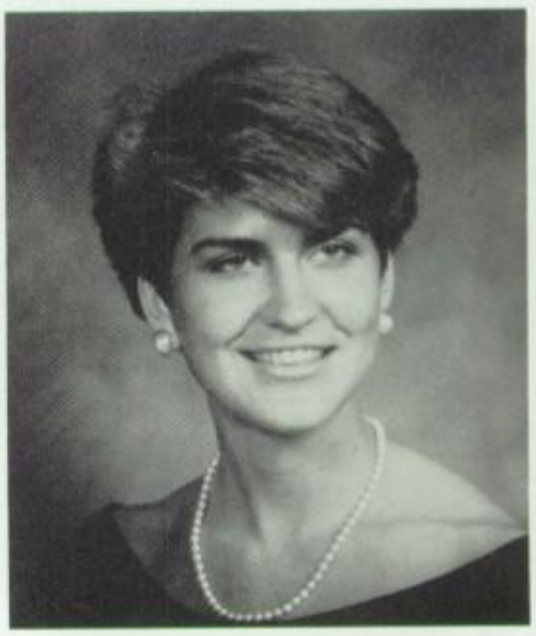
"A country boy can survive."

"Hey ha," Dave, you're a good ole boy but NOT a redneck, and you truly have the luck o' the Irish. All your teams were winners: the Vols, the Bears, even NDHS! Your skill at hunting and fishing were surpassed only by your brute force (as in head-butting), your wildly varied group of friends (Anne, Vecker, Linda, and Red), and your talent as a party animal. It's true that you'd make a good forester (you could use your skull to clear the land, JK), but the world of sports will have lost an awesome potential asset in D. ("Refrigerator" or "Sweetness;" take your pick) Poole.

Mary Lynn Portera

"We loved right down to our last goodbye; we were the best I think we'll ever be . . ."

When you're through writing that long letter, Bahama Mama, will you draw us a picture? We'll frame it for a future exhibition at the Smithsonian, unless your career changes to Olympic swimming (but remember, Dawgs don't like water!) Wait a sec, Mary Lynn, you can't go anywhere if your keys are locked in the 'Vette with the motor running! You, a Nautilus, and Rambo — we can see it now, you "designing" woman. If you can keep your mind off the guys long enough ("Just kidding!"), you'll do well at whatever you choose — and you'll even get to work at 7:00 a.m., right?



Suzanne Irene Ptacin

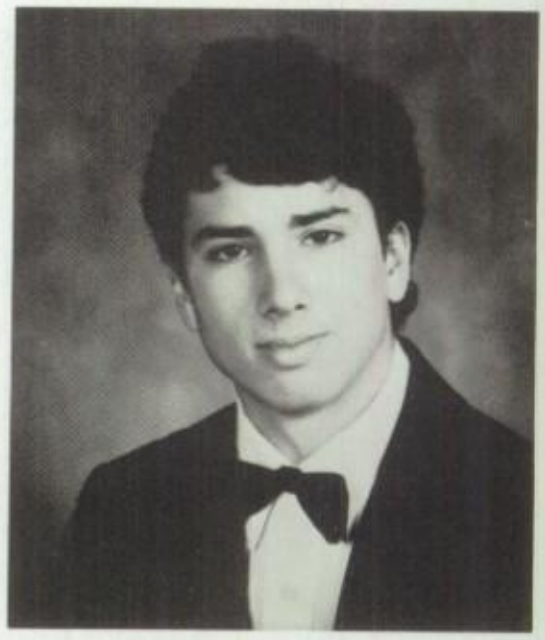
"No matter how bad the world looks, there's always something to smile about."

A cleft chin, infuriatingly cheerful smile, and blushes plus plastic facial expressions sum up Suz the pyromaniac. Rushing from Room 17 to the "Yearbook Closet," changing hairstyles once a week, keeping tabs on the Baylor campus, she still manages to "miss life as it passes by?" No way! She may send gravy flying or tell a really corny joke, but frantic, frenetic Suz compensates by flaunting her "Men of U.S.C" calendar, baking really mean birthday cakes, and communicating with her hands. "No big deal," (Mumble-mumble) but it's "back to the future" (a good time) for you. Just . . . SMILE!

Robert Sanford Putman

"Fellows, this is mechanical drawin'." — the Bear

For such a tall, gangly person, Robert sure can bench-press AND get back at coaches on his hit list. ("Flat tires? What flat tires?") The owner of some impressive 22 Tops and Hank, Jr. albums, he also has some big muscles developed over the last few years. But where do you cruise on Friday nights, Robert, and what kind of movies have you watched? And you did which in Knoxville? (Don't be so secretive!) "That cracks me up!" Anyway, you fooled most of your teachers, the Big Orange is waiting, and we hope you'll never go "Stir Crazy."



Thalia Rambalakos

"Beware of Greeks bearing gifts."

Thalia — the Ramblin' Rambalakos — wore grooves in the halls of ND, pacing, pacing: ("I'm so nervous! I don't know this!") before every test. Maybe pacing DOES produce A's?? But Rambo, ex-tomboy, occasionally ignores that foot-high stack of notes and climbs fences (with whom??), ruining her jeans in the process. Thalia, you're the wild one of the bunch, familiar with *scata*logical words and admirer of McEnroe the Brat. Even if you're proprietor of a restaurant called T.R.'s, you're headed for a diamond-studded future, and "you done KALO!"

Eva Catherine Reisz

"If you cannot do great things, do small things in a great way."

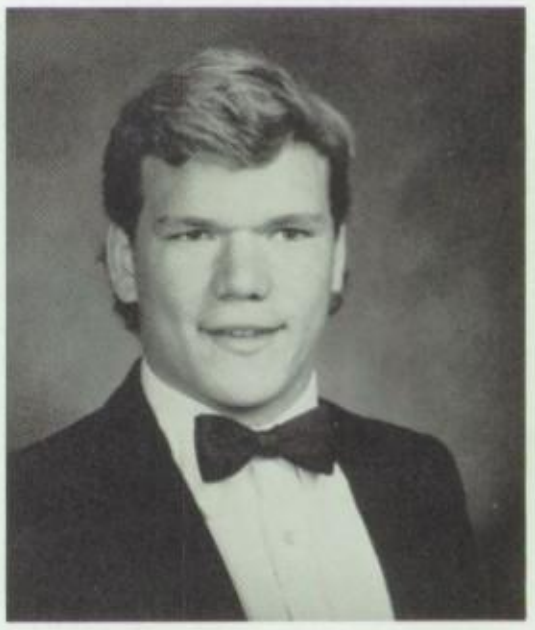
"Coochy, coochy," you're a Clevelandite and "what a squid!" But who else would go cowtipping down D.B.R. except you? The way you handle undesirables ("Turn around! He's ugly!") and go pond-shopping proves you have MUCH ingenuity and the ability to use it. Forget your foot fetish and that job at Sears'; just remember "you're wonderful," as M.D.N. would say. How sad you're not yet out of the "valley of confusion," but just bat those big brown eyes to reach "higher heights." People like you who don't hide their style are groovy! Bye from Wendy and Sheila — but don't be late.

Lisa Jenine Richards

"Exaggerate the essential and leave the obvious vague." — Van Gogh

Lisa, tear yourself away from the class of '85 because the present has offered you so much: the Breakfast Club, Teen Board, Barrett, San Francisco — even "girls' nights out!" Yes, "sweetheart," do what you want with your mom's Visa card and your unicorn collection, but you MUST choose a college before October, '86. You led a charmed life (all those wrecks and not even a citation?) and certainly left your tracks on the sand and the snow. Now all you need are penthouses in NYC, a beach house in Malibu, and a ranch in Australia. Just be happy!

Roger Brandt Riemer



"Start a new day."

Panama City, Bain's basement, and Ms. Klinck's class won't be the same, and the freshmen will miss their "role model," fat nose, goofy smile, and all! Now "the Moose" is on the loose, still thinking of action-packed soccer games and his own high-school version of the Heisman Trophy. Rog made many cross-country road trips in the little blue Mazda and never put in an honest day's work . . . lost money on horse races . . . was barred from Camp Columbus . . . and always said what was on his mind. That's why we'll remember him. Yes, "I'll do it tomorrow; right now I'm smoking my pipe."

Eva Robbins

"Yesterday/ All my troubles seemed so far away —"

Well, it's Little Eva — not the one from Uncle Tom's Cabin or even the Motown girl — just OUR Eva, the Ridge Runner, Shannon's buddy, the moody woman who never turned in a writeup. Though that bright red hair clashed with her cute little sports car and other campuses knew her better than Notre Dame's, she muddled through and graduated, even if she dies from emphysema at a very young age. ("Puff! Hack! Cough!") You had a few good friends and some good times, but what else can we say? Just — drive carefully, stop procrastinating, and . . .CIAO.

Lisa Ann Ruck

"Life is what happens to you while you're busy making other plans."

It's easy for Lisa to rob the cradle on the "Big Blu" campus — she looks SO innocent wearing Lady Di collars and pushing (stolen) K-Mart buggies! Frosty, those bird legs have taken you to Ernie's and are also safer than B-M-W-'84; are you sure that your neighbors are understanding? No, "Art didn't do it" — YOU did! Congratulations on your ability to run over both pedestrians and buildings ("Oh, Daddy, I hit the garage again!") Lisa, if you can't catch Paul McCartney, remember, Yoko has a son who's closer to your age. So . . .

Lori Ann Russian

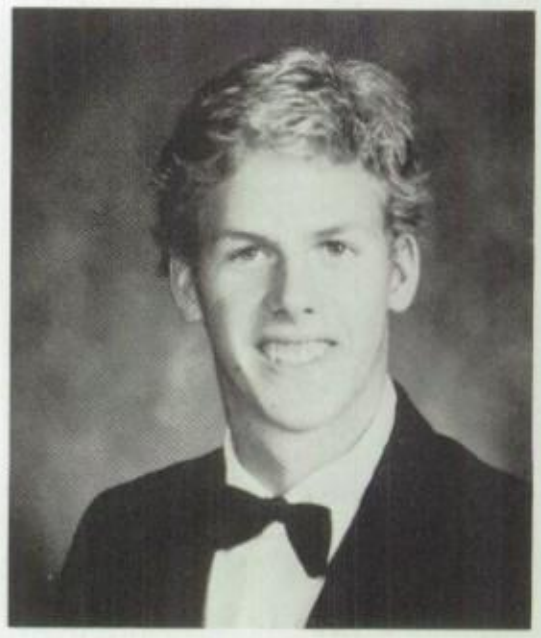
"Then time will tell just who fell and who's been left behind." — Bob Dylan

Lori, a Bobbsey twin, isn't as innocent as she looks. Meg had (well, tried) to rescue her from a treetop, she almost missed her nightly Krystal run because of her birthday, and she fled from the spotlights — WHERE did you say? do you miss those rides in the twirling Silver Bullet? (Pardon me, that was a car!) To prevent hypothermia at the Lodge and in "your" woods, hang onto Bebe and Miss Piggy ("Brr, I'm cold!") Now, Lori, stay off the front page, keep smiling, be a Laverne (or Shirley) . . . "and they were all alone."

Andrew Friedl Sawyer

"Dishonesty disqualifies; you win the race but lose the prize."

Dust, the Lodge and the Troutmen have gone through a lot. For a quiet person, you certainly do complain, but then again, TVA flumes and chemical companies have threatened your beloved rivers, lakes, creeks, trickles — "This looks serious!" Remember false dawns, theology discussions at odd hours, and Sr. picture day? The Soddy police didn't appreciate your "borrowing" those milk crates, delinquent. Next year, no frosh to worry about (except you), no Dirty Al (?); you'll have unrestricted chews and maybe a body shop for "Isuzu Trooper Bumpers." Or else the wilderness and "just the wife and kids, the dog, and me."



Conetta Redmon Schalm

"I am opposed to millionaires but it would be dangerous to offer me the position." — Twain

Connie, your frequent attendance at UTC basketball games (how's No. 54?) is surpassed only by your fanatic devotion to Penn State. Our tall, statuesque blonde has an awesome wardrobe and every electronic entertainment device you could think of — well, she needs relaxation after a long day at school and hours spent counseling her sisters. But you should remember that Monday nights are NOT part of the weekend. Thanks for your soft-spoken ways, your constant devotion (to J.T.?) and your friendship. Good luck on your world travels, and — ciao!

Todd Fitzpatrick Schremp

"On a journey through the past, will I still be in your eyes and on your mind?" — Neil Young

Todd is the ultimate sportsman: football hero (except when fumbling), golf matches, darts (he made the finals and got lucky afterwards) and pool — "You keep rackin' 'em and I'll keep breakin' 'em."And take NO prisoners! Todd has his lucky hat, legs that look like oak trees, talent (well, a habit) for arguing, and an uncanny ability to make teachers mad. He's lucky, though — HOW many times was "Killer" wrecked? Along the way in his wing-tip pumps he made many friends who dreaded to hear the fatal words, "I'm grounded again." It's the U.S. Senate for you — lots of arguing and parties.

Cynthia Anne Schweickart

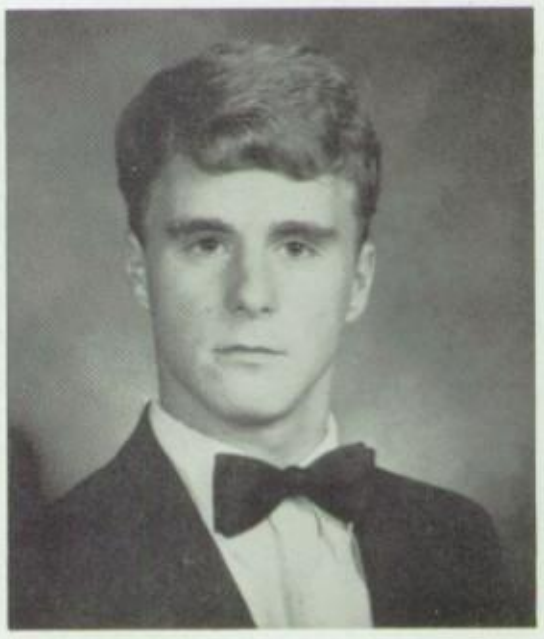
"You can only be hurt if you care a lot."

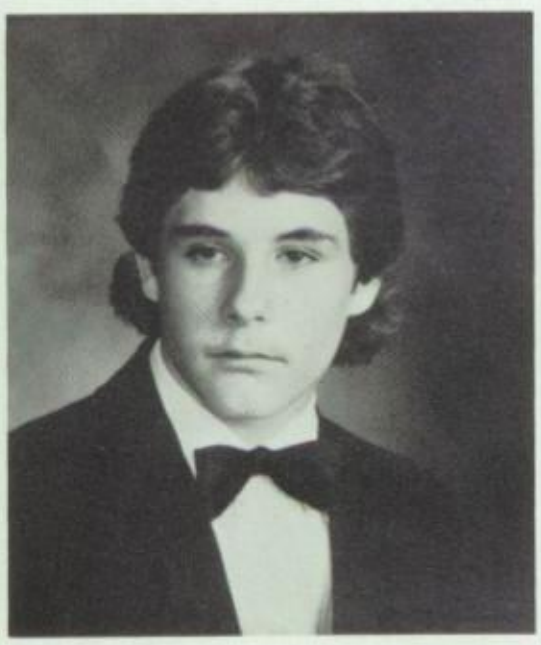
Cindy made the most of her situations: dating a body-builder and then becoming one at "the Barn," turning into a computer whiz (sketching what?), babysitting on Lookout, 4-wheeling, and surviving St. Patrick's Day. "Shoe Button Sutton," and "Dufus" (how cool!) just added to her fun, as well as the Brown Bronco, tiger-striped hair, bug-eyes, and an ex-Chicano (?)! All you need now, Cindy, is to be more non-conformist. We could tell all your secrets, but — just "Catch-a-Tire," and forget that curfew and those perpetual soccer injuries. Love ya!

Clark Anthony Sehon

"If a tree fell in the forest and no one heard, would it make a noise?"

Clark was a late arrival but moved in and made himself comfortable — working with Tom in the garage, sitting behind his drums, even making 100 on a Math IV exam! Durn, boy, you're a good example, but you forgot to teach us how to wreck cars properly! Hey, did you ever ask "that girl" out? What do you mean, which one? If you ever run out of cash, you can sleep on your surfboard; if you need more exercise, you can slalom. And remember, Clark, nothin' beats a good old Southern Baptist boy!





James R. Smith

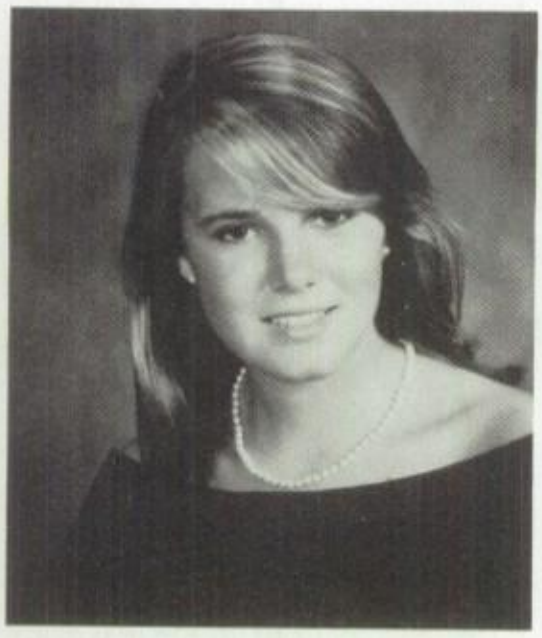
"With friends like these; who needs enemies?"

Darn it, Ricky, you survived being picked on by your buddies (bullies), Wolf-man Held, bruised ribs, and a four-year wrestling diet — but you didn't turn in your writeup. It's hard to be mean to you, so we'll just make some wishes for your future: may your weight jump from 105 lb. to heavyweight . . . try to marry a strong, short girl named Vicky who'll have twins named Mickey and Dicky . . . all of you will dominate Memorial Auditorium as the Saturday-Night-Special Smith Family, rulers of the mat. Seriously, you're an OK guy who has cute eyelashes (???) and guts.

Julie Beth Smith

"I may not be better than everybody else, but at least I'm different." — Rousseau

Julie — the girl with the "moody" hair, hatred of pep rallies, deadly sarcasm and "whatever" — is, of course, an idealist at heart. And anyone with a "twin" like Shari, a car named Bonnie, and a stuffed raccoon named Clyde HAS to have depth! Julie, though the Little Theatre isn't the best place to look for men and "Saturday Night Live" (5/4/'85) was a bit too "multi-colored," you survived it all. You may never have made it to "Death of a Salesman" and haven't yet written the ultimate novel, but now it's "off to the Arts" at Brandeis. (We're counting on you to support the rest of us!)



Kimberly Diane Smith

"Sail on, Silver Girl, sail on by . . . your time has come; all your dreams are on their way."

During her career as a mankiller, Kim used the world's ugliest shoe collection, her long and lethal nails, a tanning booth glow and lots of natural charm ("Gimme a break!") to blow 'em away. ("Y'all, I just saw the most awesome guy!") Yes, Kim, all your weekends were memorable — remember curbin' in the Shark, ridin' in the truck, vacations at the beach, MON NIM? Yo Mama — if only you'd learned more in school — still, you know to be loyal to the Dawgs and the Boss. Now, here's to that personal island and the 911 you'll drive some day. Just keep whistlin'!

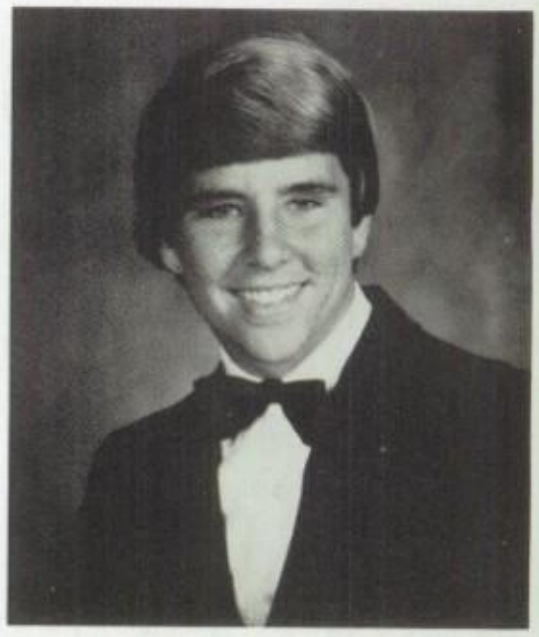
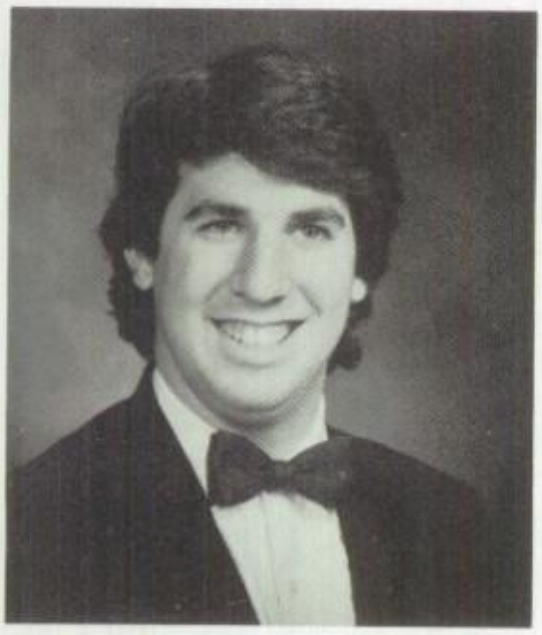
"The only time you need to worry about defeat is when you accept it."

"Howie Held," the spirit of ND — underweight during wrestling season but then it was "Save the pizza!" Our class Prez and State Champ was never in trouble (except it wasn't better in the Bahamas.) As a frosh, you couldn't even find the classrooms; now you're Red Food veteran, a Nevins dropout, and the proud owner of the Swampmobile. Howie, you had it all, except for arriving at school at the period daily! But why can't one girl "pin" you? What makes you think you'll get rich as a wrestling coach? Oh, well, maybe it's better to run for mayor (or President??) We know you'll be a winner.





Steven Benjamin Stern

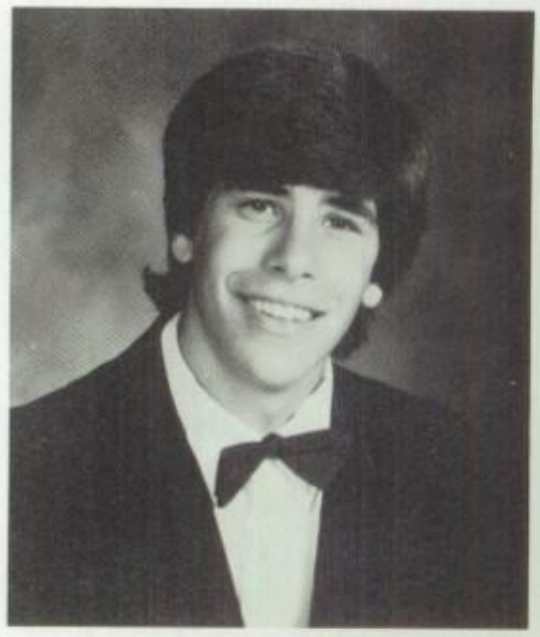
"Two roads diverged in the woods and I took the one less traveled by; and that has made all the difference."

The class of '85 celebrated when "the Cookie Man" said he was moving — but it never happened, and now we're glad. This professional Yankee acts tough BUT loves his stuffed Animal (Moo-Moo Cow) and had to learn about the harsher side of life from dates with A. (We won't even count Mirabella or Steve's own style of eating and sleeping ALL THE TIME.) Hey, Steve, if you wind up on that desert island, you can do your own thing, but forget tennis! We (your Southern friends) still don't understand you, but we know that we'll miss you.

Seth Berz Stoller

"If I could be anybody, I'd be myself so I wouldn't have to buy new clothes."

What can we say about Setherai Lenin, since he's forgotten so much? Well, do you remember your great relationship with your contact lenses? (You slept with 'em all night, Beth . . .) "Someone tell Bob and Carl to come out here," because laid-back Sether might fall asleep behind the wheel or else try to tackle more than he should ("Ouch! Crack!") You were quite adept at chatting with officers of the law, and your Mickey Mouse shirt fooled some of us. Now, may you travel crutchless to the "land of confusion" and, by the way, buy LOTS of insurance.



Jennifer Irene Stolz

"I'm an original survivor."

Jenny IS an original. She can throw any teacher off track, intimidate Westbrooks, survive several hit-n-runs (well, almost — her knees are a little fragile) and fall for men with praying mantis tattooes. "Goodness," girl, despite those vampire teeth and being a Kroger "bag person," you had fun in that antique '76 Granada and at Rick's party and even at ND! WHY, though, were you always in the right place at the wrong time? Curlylocks, don't grow up too fast, hang on to your camouflages, and aim those blue eyes straight ahead: there could be a "Rambo" in your future.

Jon Chadwick Sullivan

"The South's gonna do it again." — Charlie Daniels

Chad: despite himself he's the spirit of '86. Gone yesterday — here today — on one hand there's that mustache, cowboy boots, and four-wheelin'; on the other, there's quick-thinking, "breakfast at McDonald's" sociability. "GOODNESS," he said: "Blue lights behind me. Mike sittin' beside me, and no license on me!" (That cracked up the Hixson police!) To add to the confusion, there were long-distance calls, Sequatchie Valley girls (heh-heh), classes to — at long last — pass, Hank Williams Jr., and hunting. This about says it all: stay fast on your feet, out of jail, keep in touch with Rose, and who knows what'll happen good?

Clarinda Lynn Talley

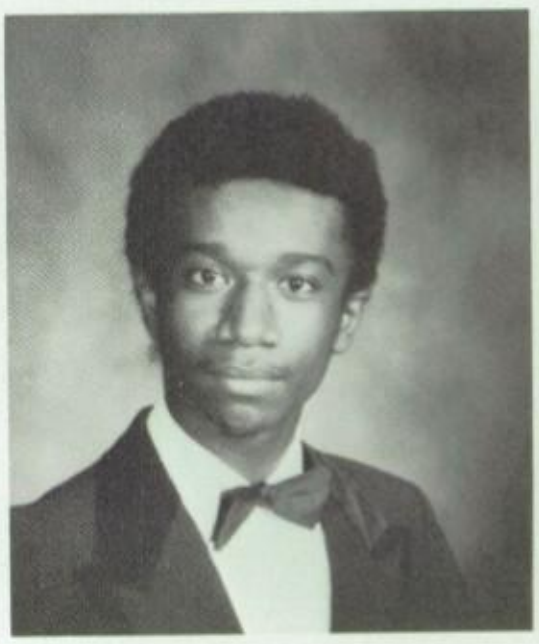
"Boast not thyself of tomorrow; thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."

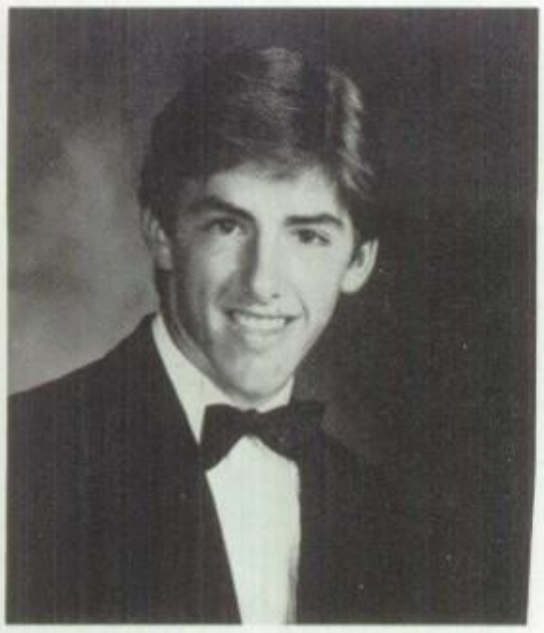
Tiny, cute Clarinda always wanted to go somewhere but never did 'cause she was home crying over her calculus book. But "yo, baby," what about those movies and parties and shopping trips to collect pink things? Those aren't "irrelevant." Clarinda, an Honors student shouldn't try as hard as you do to disguise your IQ! Your totally opposite friends have ranged from tall basketball players to Natl. Merit types but they all love ya. (Your up and down mood swings are pretty outstanding too!) Though you betrayed Selleck for Don Johnson and are ready to try a little "Miami Vice" yourself, you're a great gal.

James Edward Tatum II

"You know, I can't figure it out; it's either love or infatuation, but . . ."

James was BORN with cool and style: Botany 500's, argyll socks, button-downs, appeal (he's modest too!!) He and the notables he hangs out with listen to Morris Day, have great girls, and cruise in the Wine (good-looking '85 Sunbird). WHAT should we ask Dossett? James and Kiefer were outstanding cheerleaders, but the new ND oak tree has only James to thank for itself. (?) You can't defy the law of gravity if you keep eating like that, James, and since Jr. Prom was so great, what will happen at SR. Prom? And at graduation? Don't answer! Here's a mirror, and much luck to one of our best basketball players.





Michael John Terrell

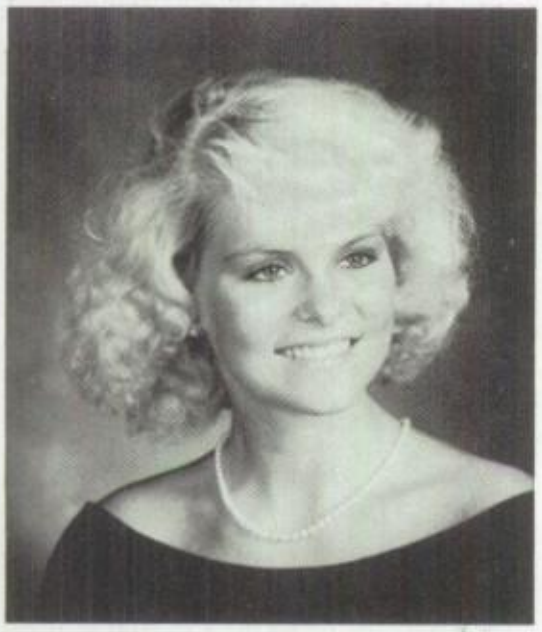
"You only live once, but if you live right, once is enough."

Look down the freshman hall: see a blond-haired bowlegged guy wearing a #13 football jersey and chasing a young thing? That's our Mike "what are you doing this weekend?" T. He may be wearing bowling shoes or fresh from a party, where he undoubtedly break-danced or did the "Terrell Shuffle" — or perhaps was punching the wall at Thriller with the other "animals." "Oh, son," you don't lend your money but, one more time, how about doing that great James Dean imitation? With talents like yours (except at algebra and who needs it?) you're headed for Hollywood, you "rebel with a cause."

Heather Maureen Thomas

"Tell the truth and run!"

The ONLY Sr. without a drivers' license, Heather's pretty smooth: a "makeover" at Millers (spooky!), a Baylor Bahamas Night (wet!) and a trip with LaRae to Europe (a case of the chicken pox!) Still, Heather, your need for "General Hospital," your cat, babysitting jobs and your red down sleeping bag prove you're still a kid at heart. If you'll put down those Cliffs Notes, how about a video party or an October swim in the lake? Yes, you're headed for a cosmopolitan career, and your dad will regain his shirts when you jet-set (or shuffle?) out of here. "I don't understand!"



Janna Michelle Thomas

"They say that silence is golden, but I'm no gold-digger."

Jan walked into ND with a grocery sack of junk food and maybe one book. Since then, she's had her moments: being force-fed chicken noodle soup, several off-again/on-agains with Chris, the Haunted House, meeting "Chicago" — "I've heard enough and I've had enough!" Your P-p-Porsche has travelled about 300,000 miles but "against all odds," it still looks good. Just stop doing odd things to your hair and get off the phone, Hyper! Here's hoping that Hilton Head, summer of '86, will be a blast. Ciao for now, but we'll see ya later in the Caribbean. P.S.: "Some like it hot . . ."

Sandra Paige Thompson

"Blondes have more fun, if they're careful."

Watch out, 4-wheelers or Porsche owners — the bubble-headed blonde is on the loose and planning another "fiesta" to cheer you up. "I don't get it," she said, while dancing the night away or demonstrating her lack of balance. Thank goodness she stopped trying to read the inscription on the tree and let herself be carved out of the "woodwork" — that was a major trip, Flashdance! Stay sweet, stay OUT of trouble, and the magic words for you are "where there's a will, there's a way." We luv ya, heartbreaker, spastic and overstimulating and everything else!

Julie Ann Trageser

"The only thing I've ever accomplished is to stop something I've never started."

Tex, did you break the McDonald's tradition only to foul up at the Krystal and end up "blue-lighting" at K-Mart? That's class, Julie, but will you stop accepting dates just 'cause you feel sorry for them? Your Tragmobile kept up with Peggy, and friends are still waiting for your next party, but you're a nice girl. "Fire up! STOMP!" Jules, you made a great fat lady at the CYO Show but you left a dent in your Sof-Air lounge, so unload that chewing gum and get the last "gourmet" salad! You're a good cowgirl (with a red-neck teddy bear) but do you really want to marry Ronald McDonald?

Daniel Dean Tribble III

"Sometimes you just gotta say what the heck!" — Tom Cruise

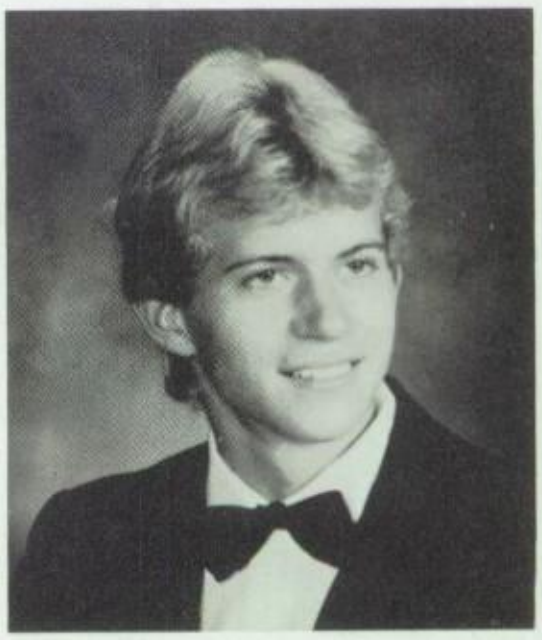
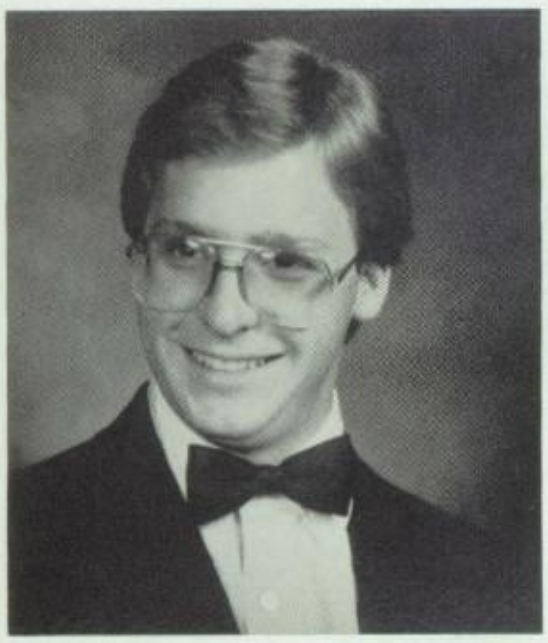
"Domino Dan," you were a credit to your school as one of the State Champ golfers, but was it a credit to you? You had to get up too early and finally dropped math, so — "Get a clue!" NOT really an enthusiastic slave at Hill's, Dan had more fun chasing Central girls — in fact, his ambition is having 3 girlfriends at once. WAKE UP, Danny, you might miss something. Hey, graveyards and Haunted Houses are OK on Halloween if you, Tom and Mike don't get carried away! If you want to be rich and famous, don't come back to help Phifer with the golf team. "I can't — I gotta work."





Timothy Phillips Utley

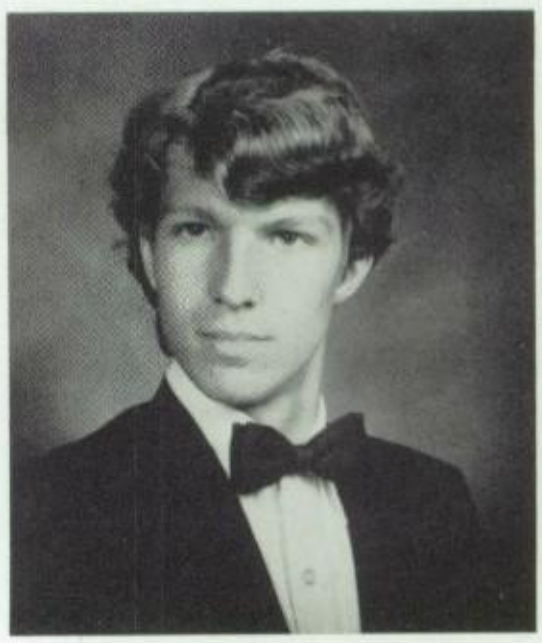
"Being late is only time running slow."

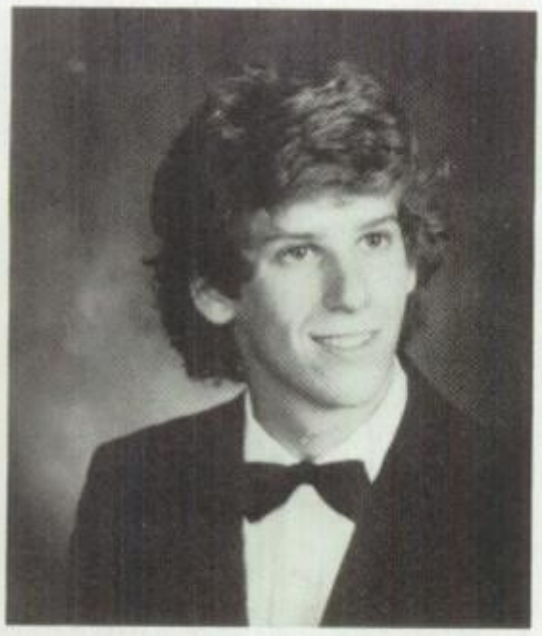
Is Utley better known for perversion or preservation? The "wholesome foursome" at Six Flags and tooting a trumpet seem opposite of wearing mismatched fluorescent clothes, fearing obese purple marshmallows (?), and eating "living, liquid chickens" with ketchup. (See? Tim's . . . different.) Maybe Danger Mouse will save you from the gaping jaws of Putt-Putt and the Valleybrook Champs, but — maybe not! (How 'bout them Dallas Cowgirls?) Poor Mr. Put-Upon and Marilee say goodbye, and we all remind you to take your advanced biology book to — law school? "Go gargle with razor blades!"

Christopher Warren Varner

"Justice . . . MY WAY."

Take a good mind, cram it with war games, violent comics, homemade swords and battleaxes, and pirating on the Tennessee River and you have Chris, the calm, impassive perfectionist (". . . Mike, put up the knife . . .") When the Snake read Lords of Discipline, his future was clear: the Citadel, a little vigilantism, then an admiralty attacking Russia. Along the way, there were girls (occasionally), soccer (regularly), and "disappearing" while Zan and Mike caught the blame. Remember, running sideways will keep you safe in the Turkey Bowl! Now, here's your clipboard, and that way is Charleston. "Soccer is life."





David Andrew Ward

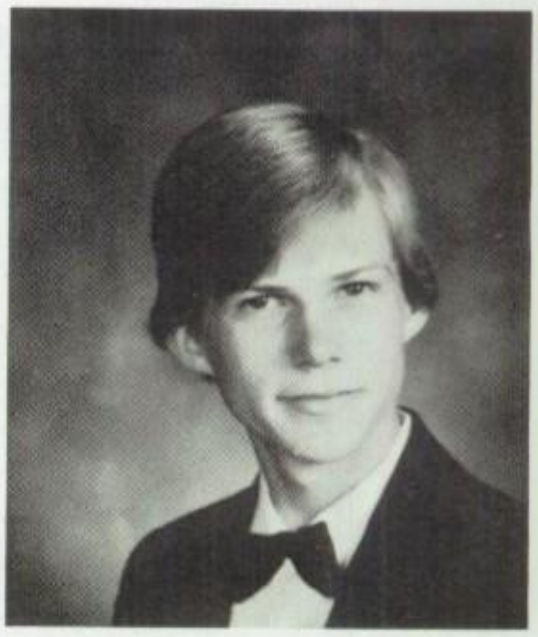
"No matter where you go, there you are." — Buckaroo Banzai

Dave the Rave (funny walk, fuzzy head, big nose) — you've stooped pretty low in your time, but — the old switcheroo? Thanx, Courtesy Cab, we all wanted David back with us safe and sound (?) Well, New Year's Eve, driving (crash!) along in a 310 (smash!) or long trips to Hixson and romance: no doubt your rugby shoes and menthol helped you pass the time getting there. When you go, take your L. L. Bean catalogs, the Wildcat and your war books with you; you'll probably write How to Use Guerilla Tactics in School. Do you have any more tales for us before you leave, Dave?

Mikey Clifford Watkins

"I don't want to be a hero, I don't want to be a star; it just works out that way."

Good grades, Mikey? OK, if you say so! Friend of many and enemy of just a few (McCallie boys), this guy is a baseball hero, a slick blond bomber (sheer brute force, right?) and a Red Food Store dropout. That's okay, we know that cruising Brainerd Rd. and Eastgate was more fun than sacking groceries. Besides, Madonna, your buddies, and the Raiders and Bears needed more of your attention. Hey, those backyard sports can be dangerous, so hop in your car, turn on that stereo tape player, and head for — old age? Not you, Mikey!



Rebecca Lynn Webb

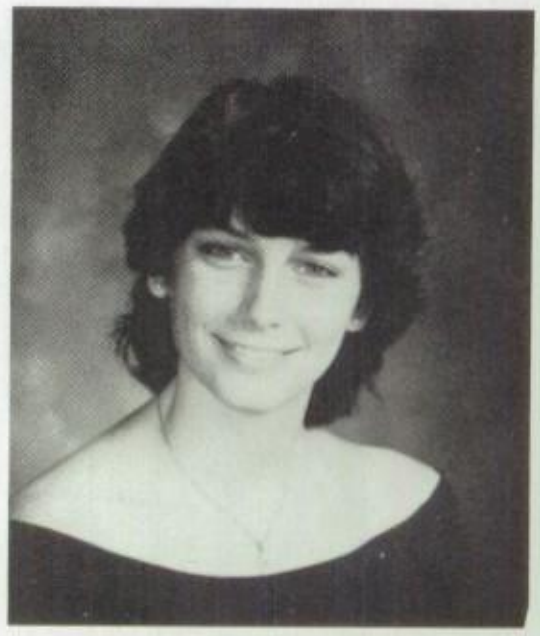
"Two hearts beat as one." — U 2

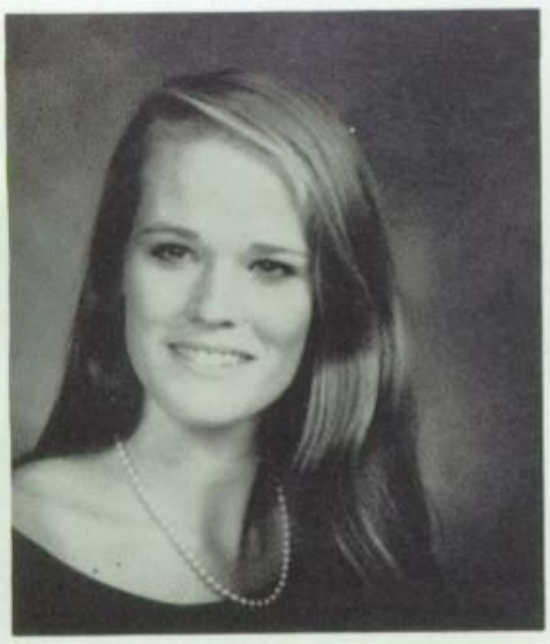
Why's tall, cool Becky ("Blondie?" Oops — sorry!) looking at her watch? So she can reach the Sports Barn in time to meet this week's boyfriend? To go home and pack for Florida after kidnapping her dad's Camaro? Hey, it's fun being kissed by a parrot, but we thought you were waiting for Tom Selleck! (If so, wait for Laura; she's right behind you!) You survived the Fifth Quarter and 2 years in Stein's class; now you should be ready for anything, especially Florida. But is it ready for you? "Oh, my gosh!"

Anne Catherine Wehunt

"I laughed. I cried. It became a part of me." — Selma Diamond

Studious Anne wrote a paper about trees in MacBeth — only a week or so late. "I missed something!!" Not you, Puritan, you know more about this place than Phifer and Held! Anne has been indispensable to the basketball court (where she plays ball hog) and to Marion County (where she, among other things, dreams about Patrick.) True, there are several Wehunts, but when you see a special one here — and there — and everywhere, it's got to be Anne. You're an outdoor girl with a flair for sports and making good friends — let's go "Back to the Future" and wish you lots of luck. We'll miss ya!



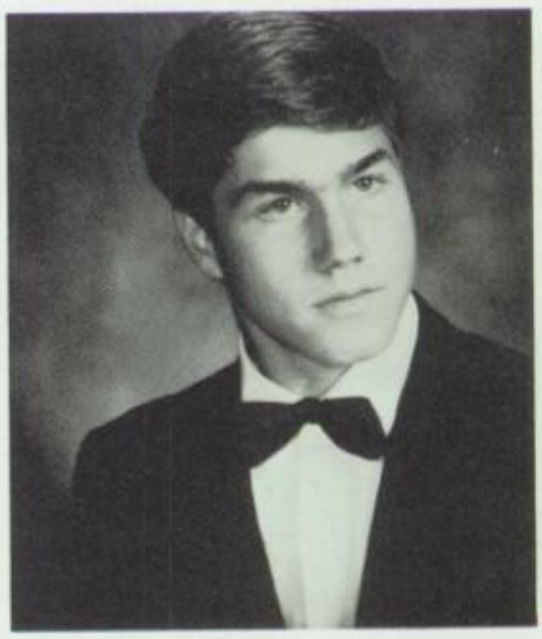


Julie Diane Weller

"Don't smoke; it will stunt your growth."

Jules — Jewels (Sorry! Ouch!) spent most of her time enjoying Auburn weekends; in fact, she was a real "party dog." She's finally learned to forget the SLUG and the FLEA (or whoever!), has stopped growing upwards, and had great fun ripping up that tape. Gumby and Goofy Doll were big helps, but shutting that mouth might help even more! (JK) We know you'll keep on havin' fun and finally get a "real job" (if you'll climb out of the pool), but meeting Dr. Spock is a weird ambition. Just be loyal to the Led Zepps, Kelly and Greg, and — "may you live long and prosper."

Stephen Joseph Westbrooks



"Not a pretty sight!"

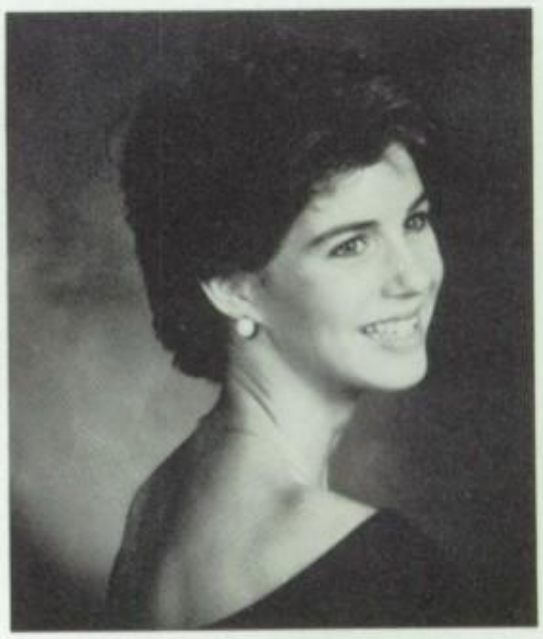
Well, Steve, rice is out of the question but maybe you'll bag a deer — or a dear — but look for the quiche behind you! Hey, if you roll too much with the Crimson Tide, will you forget to read your daily Shakespeare? Stephen and his 4-wheelin' friends can fish, hunt, camp out, and even play "River Hills Cop" — until caught?? The Bumblebee took you to Jeana's party, but too bad you got stung! Remember, your best luck comes between the months of March and May, if you survive all your escapades. Just keep on "talkin' Southern" and be proud of your Old School Tie. Hey, wait a minute — stop that!

Amy Lynn Whaley

"Baby, let's sell your diamond ring, find some boots and faded jeans and go away."

"Hey, y'all — goodness!" Amy, when the library moved up Vine St. and you fell for five guys at once, no one batted an eye. But when the Queen began Tripping, dancing on top of Jeeps ("Slow down!") and wrecking everywhere, she needed both the "little pillow" AND a crash helmet and the help of Katie and Christi. Were you sliding off Lookout Mt.? Cowboy boots, slinky dresses, pearly whites, a year-round tan, a southern drawl: here's Amy, still struttin' her stuff and reminding herself that diamonds aren't forever. Stay happy and helpful, and stay tuned for an interesting future!

Kelly Denise White



"Remember me as a sunny day we once had along the way." — Diana Ross

A smiling face arrived from "the girls' school" and everyone began humming "Five feet two, eyes of blue" to Kelly, the girl it's SO much fun to tease (she's not an airhead — just gullible!) The animal lover will probably have a petting zoo in her yard, if she doesn't move on to modeling or painting for Walt Disney Studios. But she could make a career out of shopping, if she'd climb out of her little car and tear herself away from "The Big Chill" soundtrack. Kelly, pack up your color-coordinated bows and your kitty cat, work on your talents, and wave to us from "Life Styles of the Rich and Famous."

Maureen Ann White

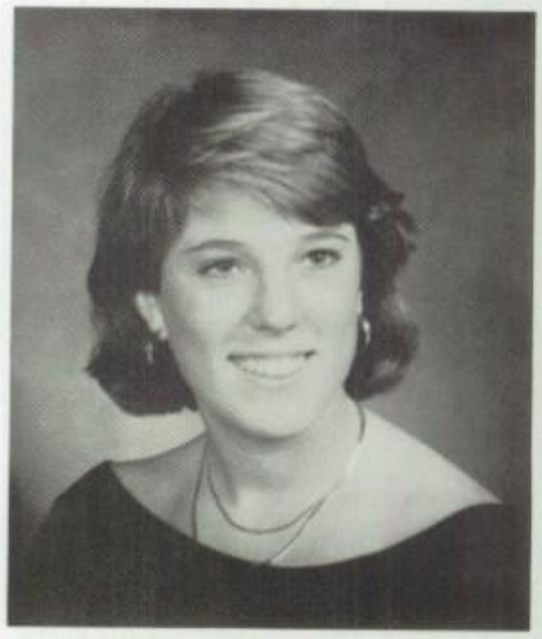
"All people smile in the same language."

From a shy, scared freshman to a sly-tongued senior: the verdict's still out on whether Maureen's change is for the better, but her loyal friends think so — IF they don't sit behind her and try to peer through that mass of curly hair. "Fast Fingers" Mo speeds over the typewriter, manipulates that piano, and handles a steering wheel like you wouldn't believe! When not at Suz', she and Mary are visiting their adopted grandparent or — "Did you see Cheers last night?" Mo, we'll see you as a star: NOT in National Enquirer but on "Lives of the Rich and Famous."

Phoebe Ford Willingham

"Ain't it funny how you feel when you're findin' out it's real!"

Phoebe sees through rose-colored glasses and turns pink with embarrassment but red with rage — often! When not working at (hey hey) Rock City, she's with Meg or Danny, usually somewhere outside: maybe swimming or "Moonlighting" (JK). She certainly helps out Darlene during spring breaks and dreams of December 2, 1984 (??) Phoebe, can we go cruise in your Notemobile? "I'm sorry, but . . ." Hey, not all of us are bleached blondes or zipperheads, "Honey," so — don't stay mad long; just live it up in London, where you belong!



Jennifer Jeannine Wilson

"Too many sacrifices will make the heart turn to stone. O when will it suffice?" — Yeats

Semi-short, semi-blonde Jennifer also describes herself as semi-lazy, but really she's pretty thoughtful and friendly. A Vols fan, J.J. relished that final victory leading to the Sugar Bowl and also waited — and waited — for the stars of "Moonlighting" to get together. Blessed with a great sense of humor and caring friends and relatives, someday she'll say, "Goodbye, Eastgate! So long, naggers!" Instead, she'll be heading off to California with "Squiggles" and her best friend (driving a bright red Jag on the way.)

Anne Leland Windle

"Funny how time flies." — Tears for Fears

Anne, why weren't you at the Lodge? Oh, you were on safari stalking White Animals, right? Swimming at the lake is fun, but why do it in your clothes? Anne, only you could hurt yourself eating donuts ("Banged ma knee in the O'Neill-mobile.") We owe you much thanks for keeping the little girls' room sparkling clean — after that, you can scrub the garbage can! We'll lend you some quarters if you'll give up those guitar picks — no? Well, Mom, thanks for all the mothering, and we already know your future — groupie for Kevin Gray. P.S.: Why were you never grounded?

Arthur Hyman Winer

"In these times that we have, translate slowly." — Zeirgeisr

Art the G(r)eek, self-made individualist, perpetual WINER, author of a "Miscellaneous" column that successfully offended everyone (hey, your friends wrote these things!) It's comforting that Le Bore, a few scattered intellectuals, and leftovers from the '60's love you for what you are — a Red M 'n M's worshipper, a consummate (?) musician playing your own creations, a con *art*ist, and the idol of misguided ND girls. (Now, we've paid you back for those well-placed digs YOU handed out.) Seriously, we wish you good luck in Tibet (on the Slopes), a close shave, and continued iconoclastic success. Marry rich (just in case) and don't trip over your sandal straps.

Wendy Wyatt

"It's the grooviest thing; it's a perfect dream." — Robert Smith

Only Wendy could be downtown on Cherry St., over in Hixson, at C.J.'s party, and driving a sick friend home, all on the same New Year's Eve. How's Big Bry? (Blee!) What do you think of fried eggs, R.B.M., Sunset Rock and four Rangers? ("Amy, it's coming — it's here!") Girl, tell us about that special date — you know: you drove; he rode in the back seat. Listen, Wendy, no more Harper stories, please! Don't drop the F-Bomb too often, and may all your evenings (from now on) be wreckless. P.S.: Always chew your cake.

The Inquirer Prophesies . . .

Here it is — the August, '86 edition of the Irish Inquirer! Read about gossip, scandals, and successes of ND's finest class! Get ready for a mind-boggling experience!

SHEA STADIUM BRAWL LEAVES THREE DEAD, MANY JAILED! At the opening Mets — Cards game, baseball turned to violence as ace Vecker Badacour beaned (and killed) batter G. Darrow. In the ensuing riot lady ump K. Gribben was battered to death by players T. Bodkin and S. MacDougall. A spectator, B. Kistler, was stampeded underfoot by a raging mob, led by ringleader M. Mahoney; vendor Mike Cate was jailed for kissing women fans. J. Brooksbank and E. O'Connell, attorneys for the defense, said the case looks hopeless.

COMMUNIST TAKEOVER IN TENNESSEE! Arranged (just for kicks) by devious D. Majoras and underhanded aides A. Sawyer and A. Garland, the state today fell victim to a Commie plot. Wild-eyed D. Mitchell and poison-pen A. Winer immediately published a manifesto. Sucker C. Kiefer fell for a Pinko girl and married her. Chris Nowell performed the ceremony. Local residents E. Robbins and Shannon Lewis commented, "Well, RED isn't all bad!"

1996 TREND: WOMEN SUPPORT MEN! A recent Gallup poll showed that women are supporting their spouses, not the reverse! C. Homar and L. Donovan, for instance, making megabucks as models; Pres. Mary Hughes and Chrysler executive T. Rambalakos are big bosses; journalist H. Thomas and actress K. Owens easily support their guys. On the other side of the coin are a few househusbands: failed Chicago gangsters Z. Crowder and M. Mirabella; soccer socialite M. Boutwell; and off-again, on-again gigolos A. Boehm and M. McBrayer. These mates get cash from their women! P.S.: G. Dossett and James Hands have similar "arrangements."

JET SETTERS THROW BIG BAHAMA BASH! A huge social event took place with winners, losers, and entertainers. J. Gaynor and J. Cook lost their shirts on the roulette wheel, spun by croupier D. Johnson. Bouncer H. Sompayrac eliminated riff-raff while go-go dancer L. DeBoer livened things up. Congratulations to big winners S. Davies, M. A. Lory, and K. Durham! Lotsa diamonds in this crowd! Unfortunately, D. Denton's jewelry was stolen by diamond thief C. Florek, who sold it to power-pawnbroker S. Westbrooks.

CONSTRUCTION CREW WRECKS DOWNTOWN CHATTANOOGA! Dateline Rivercity: the Tivoli, Miller's, and the James Bldg. are no more, thanks to construction boss B. Brown and his demolition crew: sod-busters D. Poole, J. Blevins, C. Sullivan, and J. Bryden. Decorators K. Fawcett and M. L. Portera plan to straighten up the mess. So sad that bad drivers L. Ruck, S. Fargo, and Meg Johnston ran over so many gawking pedestrians. In addition, a crime wave hit Rivercity when T. Elliott and D. Eady were attacked on a bus; S. Iorio, P. Herdy, and J. Fleetwood were fed poisoned pickle juice; T. Hickey and S. Higgins were kidnapped on their way to the Roundhouse; Terence Lewis and C. Morgan were mugged in the mall; and A. Wehunt was "firecrackered" in South Pittsburg. WHO ARE THE CRIMINALS?

FBI NAMES TEN TO MOST "WANTED" LIST: Huge rewards are being offered for suave J. Tatum and Becky Webb, notorious cat burglars, and for "Murder on the High Seas" C. Varner. Also dangerous are con artists C. Bain and Janna Thomas; S. Ptacin, the plotting pyromaniac; porno king R. Putman; graverobber H. Niemann; and Credit Card ("Ripoff") L. Richards. The worst criminal, of course, is "Babyface" Nelson. What a BAA-ADD class!

HALF OF HOLLYWOOD ON STRIKE! Star J. Louisell walked off the set of "Mr. Rogers" Neighborhood Revisited" today, asking for higher salaries. Stuntmen (and women) joining the walkoff were L. Murphy, Jenny Stolz, R. Riemer, and C. Osburn; and elephant-trainer K. Newton refused to work. On the nearby set of "Grayskull's Grandson," stars D. Jones and Kim Smith wouldn't grant interviews. Some shots were filmed of T. Schremp (Apeman), however. Co-producers Julie Smith and S. Stern said they would complete the picture even if they had to hire real actors.

TV RATINGS HIT CEILING FOR NEW SHOW! "Miami Vice" regulars T. Dixon, C. Huffman, A. Whaley, and C. Talley are sweating it now that the new smash, "Hilton Head Empire," is so successful. Billionaire K. Lafferty says the show does well because of its realistic cast: L. Bickel is the "matriarch"; B. Brock and T. Musick are her nasty daughters; P. Thompson is "the other woman." Also starring are D. Casteen as the dumb but rich husband and M. Terrell as a lovable thug. Since D. Nicol spent so much time in the darkroom, he was replaced by "SNAP" Finnegan, cameraman.

HOSTAGES FALL FOR KIDNAPPERS! Dateline, London: fear stalked a trendy hotel today as terrorists S. Austin, H. Booth, and M. Watkins blew up a room or two and made captives of C. Schalm, K. Kilgore, and L. Pickard. Fake waiters D. Gilligan and I. Patton and posing-as-maids E. Reisz and L. Russian helped the terrorists with their plans. It was also discovered that munitions experts Ricky Smith and S. Stoller were part of the plot. Skilled diplomats C. Sehon and L. Mattox are hoping that the villains will announce wedding plans any minute.

COMPUTER INVENTS NEW ANIMAL! Brilliant scientist B. Callahan and his lab assistant T. Utley announce a recent breakthrough in animal breeding — the "Base 2 Beast." Barnworkers Becky Hope and B. Meeks called the creature "fantastic" and thanked trainers J. Trageser and C. Schweikart for whipping the beasts into shape. Veterinarian S. Brown will inoculate the beasts; then they will go to the circus to be ridden by bareback daredevils J. Weller, K. White, and K. Kennedy.

ALL FEMALE SPACE MISSION! Dateline, Outer Space: financed by wealthy space buffs P. Willingham and R. Lerner, the space capsule "Minerva" discovered a new planet this week. Captain Maureen White and crew members T. Erwin and K. Bellenfant reported the planet as "preppy." The soil is pink, but the inhabitants (A. Windle, Gina Green — of course — and J. Wilson) are green. The place is quite rustic, and one alien, Shannon O'Neill, led the Earthlings to a "Lodge."

FORTUNE TELLER NEVER WRONG! Mystical Madame Sheila (O'Keefe) has successfully forecast many strange items. Here are a few: M. Lambert and W. Wyatt would smother to death while mud-wrestling; D. Tribble would become a rich TV evangelist; M. Crutch would be Secretary-General of the UN. Further, B. Laudeman would get mashed trying to turn the Emerald City of Oz pink, and D. Ward would own a vast vegetation — producing plantation in Peru. (She also predicted that no one would graduate in '86 and that chickens would soon have six legs, but never mind.)

Fighting Irish

Marching Band

September	October	November	December
3 Bibs and whipped cream, but who are the real babies?	1 Olan Mills photographer strangles boys with their own ties	4 Invasion of the Evaluators; school strangely quiet	2 Seniors turn in JUST enough writeups to be spiteful
5 Bird "angles" into Room 7: how "obtuse!"	5 Follow the yellow brick road to . . . bodybuilders contest?	7 David (Indiana) Jones bullwhips himself into shape
10 Held judged at least one-tenth of a Lovemans man	14 In service: teaching skills improved by folding paper napkins (?)	13 Sr.motorists, a skip hour just isn't worth it!	4 Kiefer, you have no shame? (Apparently not)
13 Carscaddon's manly chest astounds (?) the band		15 That was the week that was: nine jrs. suspended for everything!	7 First semester F equals summer school: Yes? No? Who knows?
15 Students can't sleep: classroom decor too loud	15 Yes, wearing a scarlet letter IS a visual aid	18 Hamrick eats words, sings Rocky Top, ruins lunch	13 Romeo and Juliet, Abbott and Costello, James Dean in OUR auditorium — good job!
23 Srs. to Moo: "Math IS the root of all evil. See?"	18 Girl's restroom painted Pepto-Bismol pink	23 Happy 2nd Breakfast Club day, seniors . . .	16 Goodner sheds "Red Man" image; becomes "Marlboro Man" suspendee
	22 N-E-D-T-P-S-A-T: now we know our ABC's		17 Ms. Harris let down by "Art-ful" "Dee-dgers?" Ma foi! C'est dommage!
30 Come back to Room 17, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean . . .	30 Fighting Irish record 500% better than 1984!	28 If a "Haile's Comet" appears, ERASE IT	20 Exams in Dec.? Wait! We're not ready! They should have been a month ago

January	February	March	April	May
6 After semester finals and long break, who CARES if it's '86?	1 Five more juniors suspended, Ho-Hum, yawn.	3 Longest intercom announcement in history: Wade and the "enormous truck"		3 Sheraton elevator "stalls" after-prom parties.
7 Boyles' maternity outfits declared superior to ND uniforms.	3 "Rambo" gets first demerit from Big Moo for "eating in class."		2 C. K. has a Close Encounter of the First Kind.	6 Motorcade was certainly a "crash course" for seniors!
12 Stein, hospitalized, gives up cigarettes — GASP!	14 DARN! Cupid almost (but not quite) "snowed under."	5 Staff begins water gun/pen collection to avoid further "Teacher Appreciation."	4 Varner mother-hens the gang at Panama.
15 Phifer threatens smoke alarms in restrooms.		13 ND ("the place to be") visited by mounted police, ambulance, Hill People.	10 Yes, Chip and Vince, baseball CAN be a headache.	9 "Can't drive 55" on Jersey Pike — right, P. B., M. M., D. C.?
20 Linder, honorary "Far-Sider," redecorates office with cartoons.	18 Fisher ("Poor Little Lamb") becomes "black sheep" of faculty lounge.	17 Green and White Day: "That looks aqua/turquoise/ olive drab to me!" (Happy St. Patrick's)	Jones' classroom courteously rearranged by juniors.	15 "The Case of the Missing Water Pistol," right, Ms. Harris?
	20 Forté (BYE) meets cops in case of arrested development(?)	18 Alex, Math Week winner, gripes about prize ("623*pennies?"*).	15 Fisher commits 278 personal fouls at faculty-student game.	16 Seniors made it! Faculty shake heads in disbelief.
27 Stein: "the tomato that ate fingernails, toenails," still off cigs.	22 Audience kicked out of play practice for breathing.	21 We saw a "bad (GOOD!) moon risin'," Dracula cast!	18 What's a bathrobe doing at the Talent Show?
28 Never mind zero weather and the Challenger — "no sweatpants."	28 IT'S OFFICIAL: boring winter causes early spring fever!	27 Talk about timing! Reports arrive JUST before Spring Break.	26 Party, party 'cause tomorrow's the end of the world(?)	26 Exam week? Thank goodness — no more football practice!

The Irish Put on the Ritz

Photographers are such fools.

Now, listen, Son . . .

You mean teachers can dance?

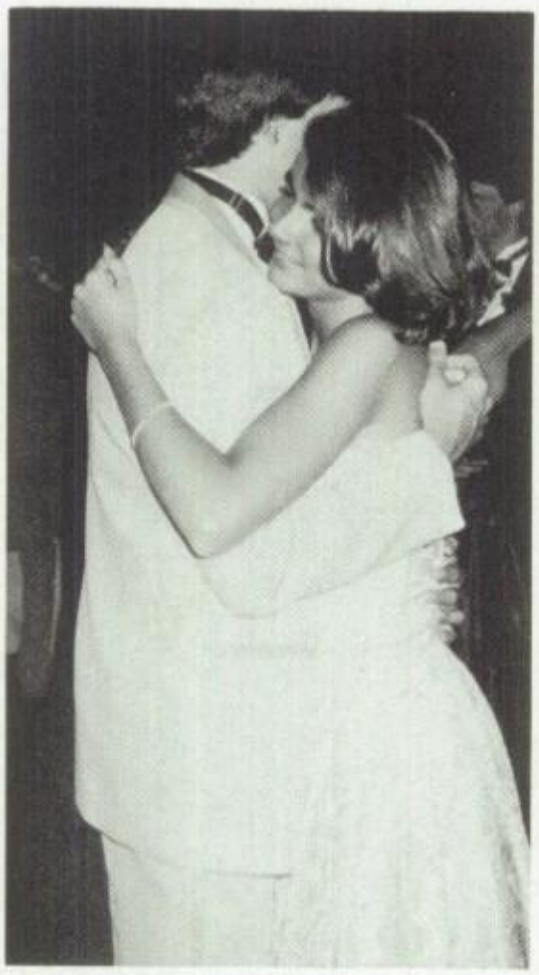
Jivin'!



Ahhh . . .

Now, Miss Scahlett . . .

You mean it's formal dress?

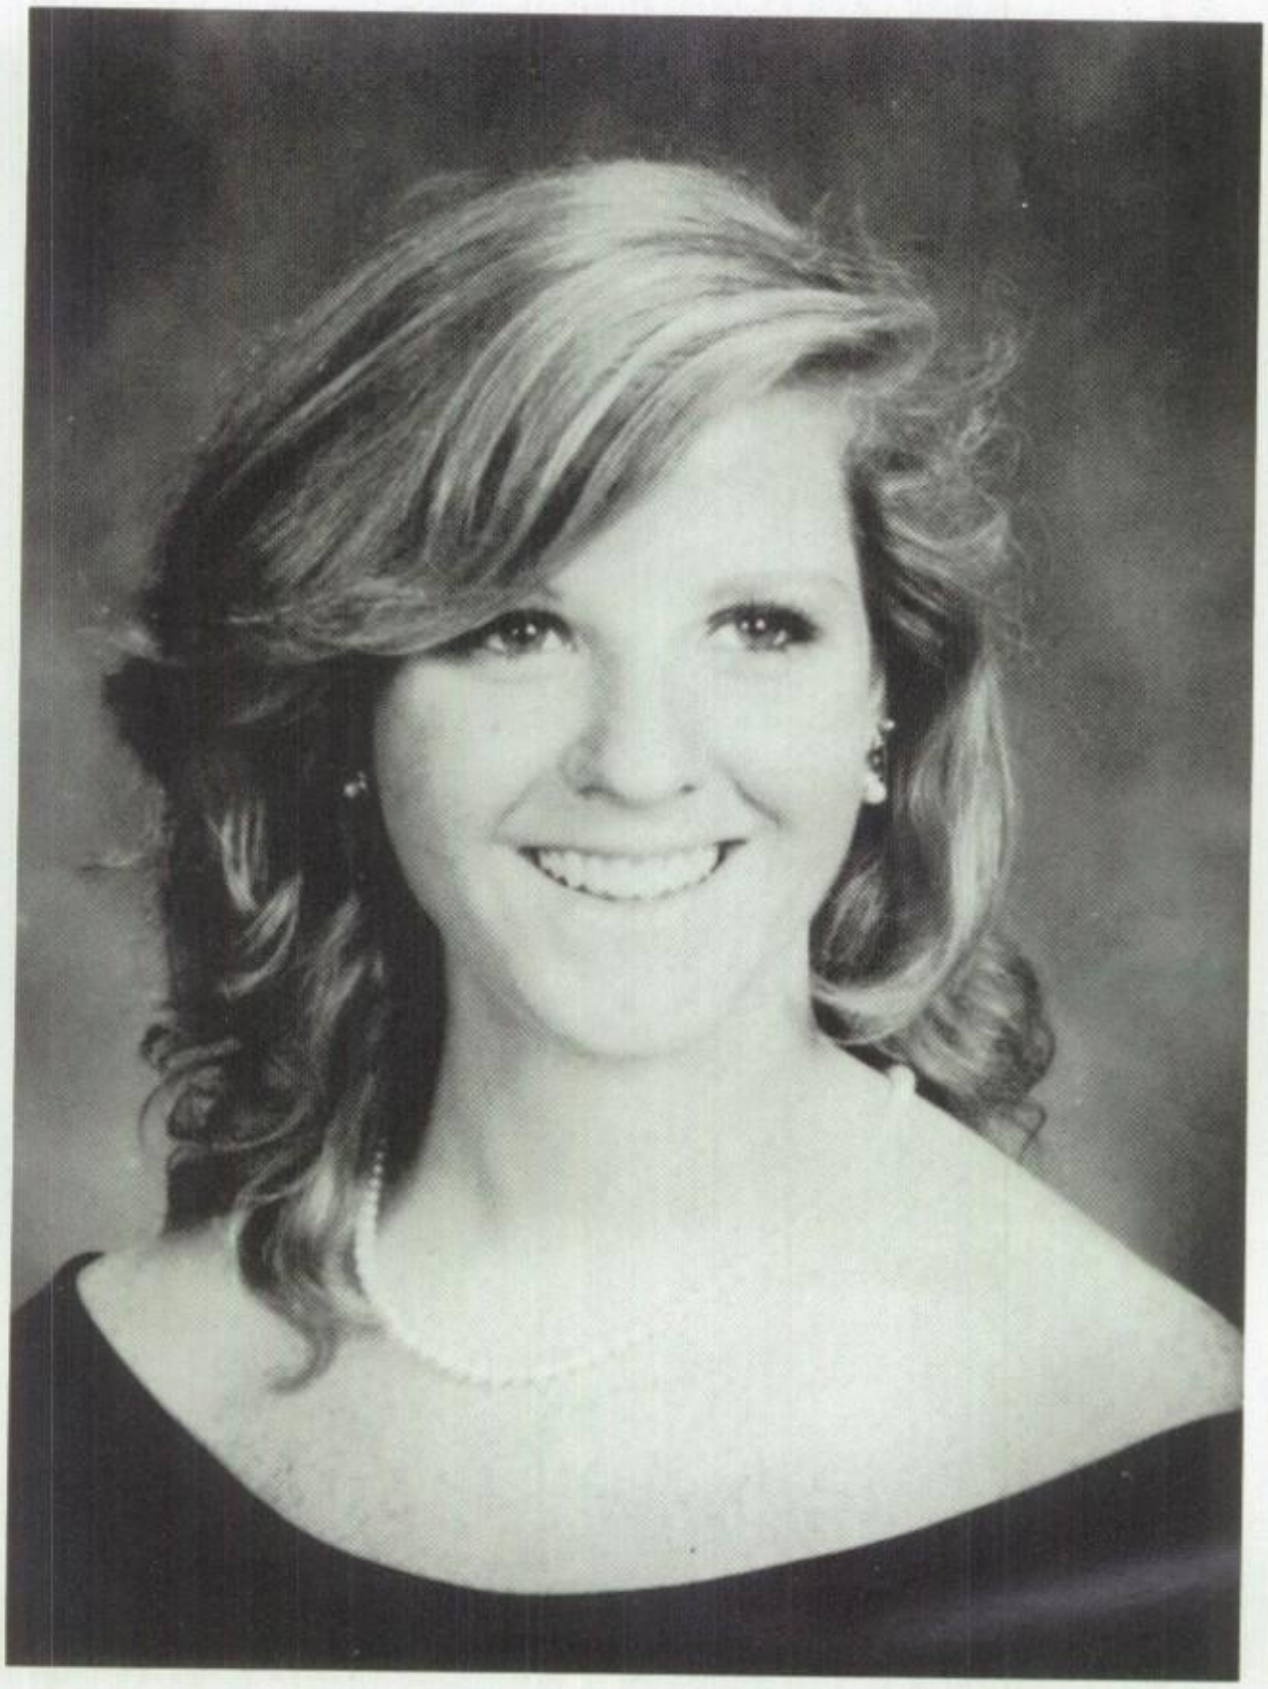
Amy Wellbrock: 1968-1985



For Her

For all who knew her, Amy left gifts behind. It might have been her friendly "hi's", or warm smiles, or her keen sense of humor. It might have been her eagerness to please or willingness to share. It's sad we didn't know what a special person she was until she was gone. No more tears or regrets — just a hope that she's happy and knows she lives on in our hearts. We love you — Class of '86 — and all who knew you —

May 23, 1993

Dear Izzie:

I Hope you Like it & Don't Regret this.

Amy was special to your Mother + Family.

God Bless!

You May Not ever get or receive a Gift like this, Again!

Best!
